5th Ward Scores Secrecy on Refuse Area

70 Attend Meeting Of Council, Claim Home Values to Drop

A refuse disposal project or "dump" as he called it, in the Kingston Point lagoon area of the Fifth Ward, would be a "monstrous blight" there, Attorney Richard W. Griggs, spokesman for the Fifth Ward Community Association, declared at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting, in a bid for backing of the aldermen in opposing the proposal.

Griggs said he felt that "the chief executive officer of this city is playing fast and loose with the trust placed in him by the electorate," because he has not yet fully revealed plans for the project.

Alderman Anthony J. Alecca (R) Fifth Ward, citing eight reasons why the project should not be permitted in the ward, wanted to know, "What other alternatives are open to us?"

An attendance of some 70 residents of the ward heard Griggs and Alecca object to use of the site for refuse disposal. They included former Fifth Ward aldermen Samuel J. Perry and Frank A. Adams and former City Treasurer Orrie R. Riehl, who were introduced by Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr.

Meeting Next Month
A meeting with Mayor John J. Schwenk and other officials is due to be held early next month to discuss the proposal.

Attorney Griggs said he wanted to address his remarks to a subject "apparently dear to the heart of this city's chief executive, although not necessarily dear to his property. But let me assure you, that the subject about which I will speak, is not only dear to the hearts of the good people of the Fifth Ward, and the entire city, but quite dear to their property and homes. I refer, of course, to the city dump, which has been proposed for establishment by your mayor in the Fifth Ward of this city."

Griggs said he was sure "that as members of the law-making body of your city government, you have either read or heard through our local news media, that the mayor has such a proposed dump under 'serious consideration.' The alderman from the Fifth Ward, Mr. Alecca, has never been consulted by the mayor about this matter, and I doubt that any other member of this council has been consulted about such a matter so important to us all, and one, which can, and will have the most profound effect upon the lives and property values of the residents of the Fifth Ward, and the rest of the city as well."

Scores Refusal to Answer
"I don't believe the proposed dump, and let's call it what it really is, not a 'sanitary land-refill project,' as some would prefer to mislabel it, is under 'serious consideration.' I believe the chief executive officer of this city is playing fast and loose with the trust placed in him by the electorate of this city, when he refuses to say what he is up to concerning his dump, and refuses to answer questions put to him on behalf of those, who have a legal right to seek information concerning matters, which can adversely affect valuable property rights."

"The chief executive of this city apparently has so little faith in the people of his city that he refuses to divulge actions taken by him in his official capacity. While he talks of 'serious consideration,' why doesn't he, at the same time, admit he filed an application with the Ulster County Health Department on July 20, 1964, seeking approval of a refuse site in an area generally east of North Street, and south of Delaware Avenue in the Fifth Ward of this city?"

Peru President Proud of First Year in Office

LIMA, Peru (AP)—President Fernando Belaunde Terry is starting his second year in office, proud of his record and confident of the future.

In reply to questions submitted by The Associated Press, the 50-year-old president of Peru said major achievements of his administration include enactment of the nation's first agrarian reform law, doubled dollar reserves, increased construction of highways and low-cost housing, increased foreign investment and prospects of stronger relations with the United States.

He said elections have proved "that communism lacks backing" in Peru, and that the identification of Cuba's Fidel Castro with communism "limits that foreign influence to a very small following."

Belaunde, elected for a six-year term, said he considered

Rosendale Has Ban On Water

Parched Area Is After New Supply

Emergency measures have been taken today to secure a new source of water supply for the drought-parched Village of Rosendale, and Mayor L. Gerard De Felice declared a ban on unnecessary use of water to conserve the remaining supply.

Mayor De Felice said he has made arrangements to have a village crew pick up 4,000 feet of eight-inch pipe, a chlorinator and a pump to be used for tapping a large reservoir of water in the abandoned cement caves on Main Street.

To Hurry Installation
The equipment will be picked up from the Department of Public Works depot at Waterford and installation will begin as soon as the material arrives in the village, he said.

The mayor asked the cooperation of village residents to conserve water wherever possible and declared a ban on use of water for lawn sprinkling, car washing, filling of pools and other unnecessary uses, until further notice.

Looking to Caves
Mayor De Felice said he applied to Ulster County Health Department for permission to use the millions of gallons believed to be stored in the abandoned cement caves.

Two of the village's three reservoirs are now empty, and the third has only about 250,000 gallons in reserve for fires and emergency needs, the mayor said.

Drought Strain
The village consumes about 200,000 gallons of water per day.

Ranger 7 On Course for Target Area

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The camera-carrying Ranger 7 spacecraft probably will hit its target area on the lighted side of the moon, a space scientist said today after an apparently successful midway maneuver of the craft.

Must Analyze Data
Dr. William H. Pickering, director of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which is guiding the 806-pound vehicle on its 228,000-mile voyage, told a news conference, "I think we'll get in the target area — a 300-mile-wide plain just above the equator in the center of the left half of the moon."

The area, called the Sea of Clouds by ancient astronomers who imagined the flat spaces on the moon were bodies of water, was chosen as a photographic target because it could be a good landing spot for U.S. astronauts within a few years.

Pickering, obviously elated, said: "It appears the spacecraft did what it was supposed to do, but we must analyze tracking data for several hours before we can determine the impact area precisely."

He promised an announcement later today.

Launched Tuesday

Ranger 7, latest attempt of the space agency to take close-up pictures of the surface of the moon, was launched from Cape Kennedy Tuesday morning.

Major event in the hour-and-a-half mid-course maneuver was a 67-mile-an-hour kick in the pants designed to bring Ranger 7 on course toward its target area.

The kick — a 50-second burst by its steering rocket — was ordered at 3:27 a.m. Pacific Daylight Time by Jet Propulsion Laboratory scientists after hours of tracking indicated Ranger 7 would buttonhook past the leading edge of the moon and impact on the dark side.

On radio signals from earth, the 806-pound spacecraft pirouetted briefly for better aim, then ignited a small rocket in its base.

All A-OK
In effect, the brief burst slowed by 67 m.p.h. the 4,000 m.p.h. speed that would have carried Ranger 7 some 240 miles left of the face of the moon, as viewed from earth.

Laboratory officials said it would be 10 to 12 hours before they could determine the accuracy of the maneuver, executed more than 99,000 miles out in space, and predict the site of impact.

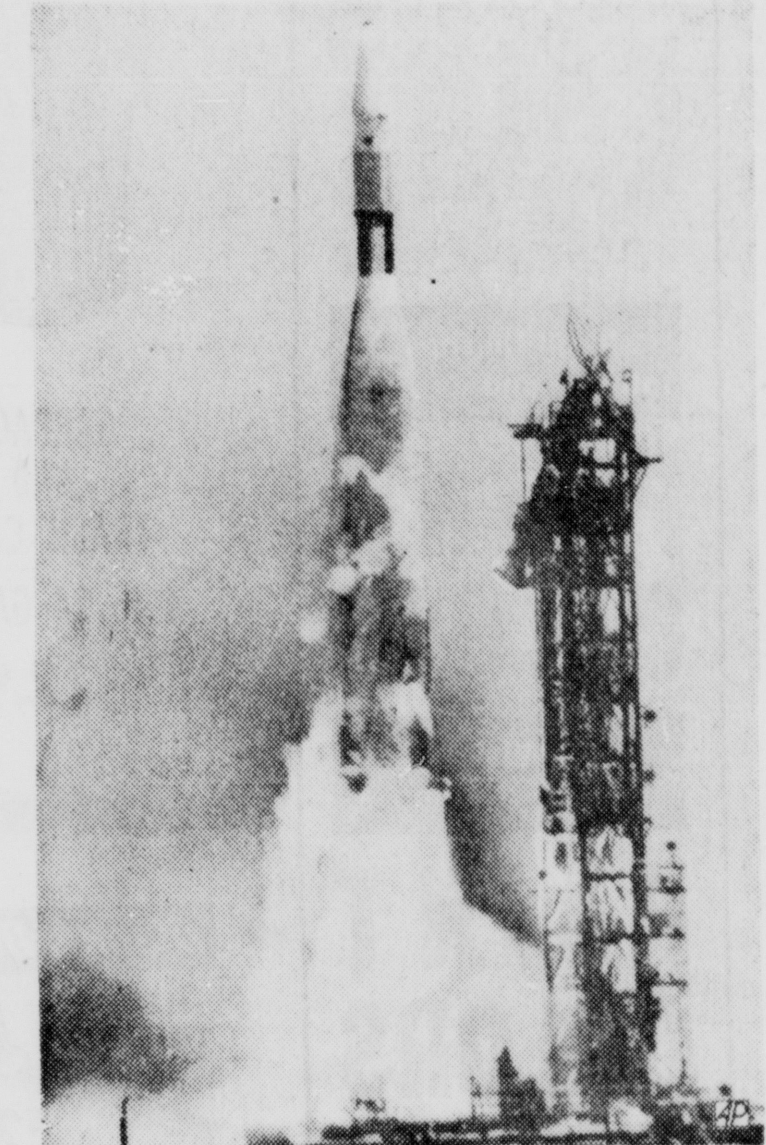

They added, however, that all systems on the spacecraft apparently have functioned well so far on the 69-hour, 228,522-mile voyage.

Seven hours after launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Ranger 7's Atlas-Agena booster rocket was so accurate the vehicle would hit the moon early Friday without further guidance.

The impact, however, would come on the dark side, with lunar gravity pulling Ranger 7 down after it just missed the leading left edge.

Kane Is Endorsed By Both Parties For 14-Year Term

Supreme Court Justice T. Paul Kane of Cobleskill, Schoharie County, was unanimously endorsed Tuesday by both the Republican and Democratic Third Judicial conventions at Albany for a full 14-year term.

At the Republican convention there was one other contender, Edward S. Conway, chairman of the Albany County Republican Committee. After the other six counties in the district voted for Justice Kane, Conway moved to make the nomination unanimous.

Succeeds MacAffer
Col. Frank A. McNamee, permanent chairman of the Republican convention, called the meeting to order and Edmund A. Koblen of Albany placed the name of Conway before the meeting as a candidate to succeed the late Justice Kenneth S. MacAffer, Walter A. Wertine of Cohoes, former Albany County chairman, seconded.

When the roll call of delegates was called all of the other counties yielded to Schoharie County and the name of Justice Kane was placed in nomination by Henry B. Whitbeck of Richmondville and the nomination was seconded by the Rensselaer County delegation of 11, which was the key to the nomination. Other counties voted for Justice Kane and Conway then made the vote unanimous.

Meanwhile, the Democratic convention, with State Senator Julian B. Erway as chairman, had adjourned pending word of the outcome of the Republican convention.

The name of Justice Kane was placed before the Democratic convention by David R. Alford of Schoharie and he was endorsed.

Was Named Interim
Justice Kane, who had served as district attorney of Schoharie County for 12 years, was named by Governor Rockefeller to fill the interim term of the late Justice MacAffer.

Votes Are Short With 4 Aldermen Out; Talk With Mayor Proposed

Second-phase street repair bond measures, needing approval of all nine aldermen present at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting, scored an insufficient 6-3 vote with four aldermen absent.

Two bond sums totaling $60,659 are required. One, a $43,722 capital bond appropriation would be used for repair of nine streets, and the other for $16,937 would be for the resurfacing of eight streets.

Democratic aldermen repeated the same charge of lack of cooperation of the Administration in discussing the program, and Republicans held that the program, as submitted, benefits the city at large.

To Protect Jobs
Alderman Leonard VanDyke (D) Sixth Ward, joined five Republicans in favoring the program, mainly because he felt continuance of street work, would cause no loss of jobs.

Democrats Edward Norton, Seventh Ward, Robert Gallo, Ninth Ward, and James F. Howard, 10th Ward, council minority leader, opposed both bond measures.

Absent because of vacations, and other reasons were: Edward J. Schrowang (R) First Ward; John J. Naccarato (R) Third Ward; Peter J. Mancuso (D) Eighth Ward, and William G. Davis (D-Lib) 13th Ward.

Asks to Meet Mayor
Howard asked that Mayor John J. Schwenk be notified that those who opposed the program, as presented, were willing to meet with him and members of the Board of Public Works to discuss it before the Aug. 4 regular meeting of the council.

Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, moved that the finance committee, because the absence of one of its members (Naccarato) be relieved of further consideration of the street-repair program sums, and his motion carried 6-3.

Voting on the measures, which followed were on reports of the laws and rules committee.

Alderman Donald P. Tucker (R) Fourth Ward, said he was not fully satisfied with the program, as presented, but in order not to jeopardize it and "put people out of work" he was voting for it.

Anthony J. Alecca (R) Fifth Ward, indicated he was not fully satisfied, but "in order not to cause any layoffs" he was voting for it.

Two Criticize Mayor
Alderman Edward Norton (D) Eighth Ward, felt that the mayor "wants to see it all his own way, and Robert Gallo (D) Ninth Ward, said "Democratic Aldermen have proved that they can work on a two-way street. Until we can sit down and work these things out as a unified body, we can work nothing out."

The mayor, he charged, "hasn't done anything to help in the seven months I've been in office."

Majority Leader Machione said he agreed that the BPW was "riding a little rough shod" in dealing with streets in the various wards, but in the "overall picture" it usually works out to bring benefit to the city at large. The "same harangue" over streets, he noted, happens year after year.

The mayor said Gallo, knew the street program was not acceptable three weeks ago, and asked: "What is he doing about it. Has he done anything? He has had ample opportunity. Is there anyone here tonight, who can answer that for me?" He got no answer.

Gallo said the mayor indicated on Jan. 1 that he wanted to work with the council as a body, but claimed he has not done it.

Asks About Change

Minority Leader Howard said: "At our last regular meeting, the second-phase of the street program was decided by all members of the finance committee, as not being fair. Today, it seems everyone, all of a sudden, is satisfied with it."

Howard said he submitted three streets for consideration: Hilton Place, South Greenkill Avenue, and South Prospect Street. Only the latter he said, made the program.

"The people of Hilton Place, and South Greenkill Avenue," he said, "are still paying $5.33 per thousand (taxes) the same as the rest of the city which is getting new streets and improvements. I was guaranteed by the mayor I would get patch work on these streets, if I went along with the street program. On the radio and in the press, I have learned that if the street program is not passed, there will be a layoff in the department of public works. This, to me, is a take it, or leave it proposition. I do not approve of these tactics. There should be enough seasonal patchwork, he held, and he felt the proposal was "just plain blackmail."

Machione noted that "they didn't take all of my streets" either, but he felt that in the "overall picture" the city would gain.

Alderman-at-Large Carroll, at one point, suggested that if the aldermen were dissatisfied with the manner in which street work was now authorized, they might discuss the problem with the Charter Revision Commission.

The aldermen authorized an appropriation of $14,600 for a new street sweeper, as proposed by the BPW. The measure had been left in committee at a previous meeting.

State Authority Billboard Suits Total $549,127

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Thruway Authority is the target of a $549,127 suit stemming from its campaign against billboards allegedly standing too near the superhighway.

The Joseph Advertising Co. of Albany and its president, J. Joseph Mandelbaum, charged the authority had violated a truce when it leveled six signs owned by the firm on June 10, 1963.

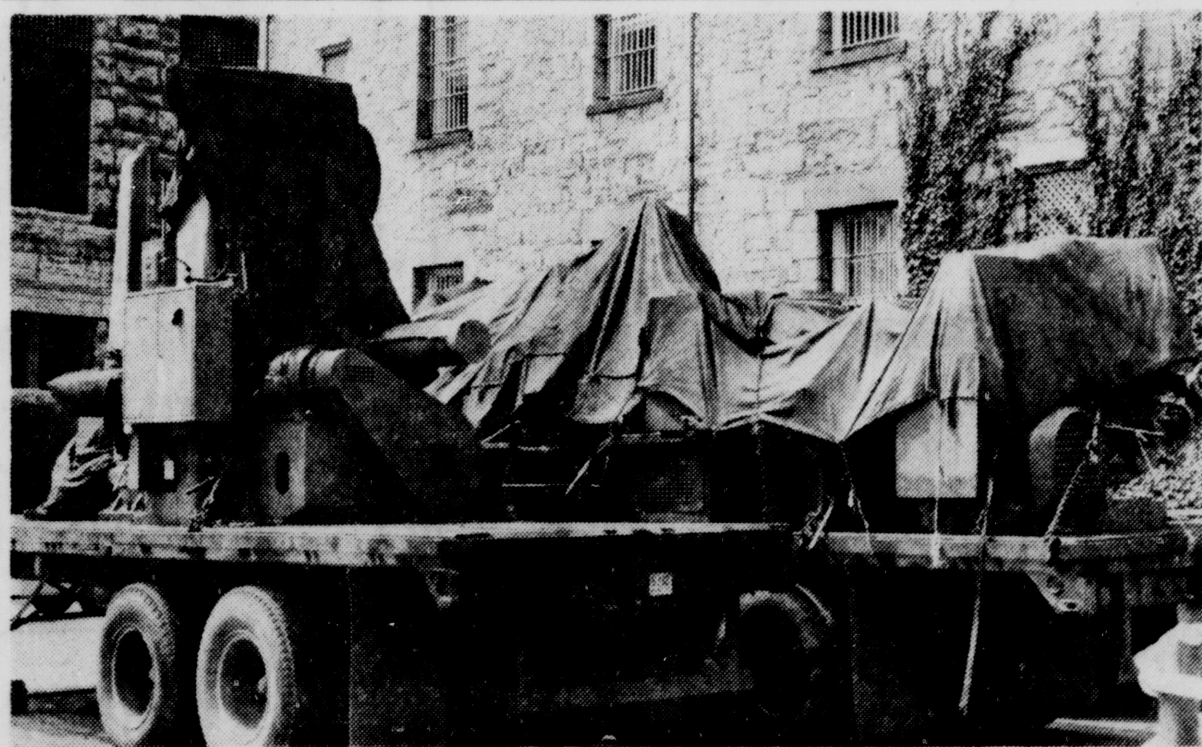

The company said it notified the authority that it intended to remove the signs four days before Thruway workers removed them.

The firm, in a suit filed last Thursday with the State Court of Claims, asked $524,127 in damages for the signs, which were along the Thruway in Greene, Montgomery, Schenectady, Herkimer and Oneida Counties.

Mandelbaum asked for an additional $25,000 for a sign on his property in Montgomery County. He charged that state workers had "trespassed" on his land.

Joseph Advertising maintained that all of its signs were more than 500 feet from the Thruway, as provided in original legislation governing the superhighway. It charged that a legislative change in the dis-

Abnormal Peach Season Returns To Normal Supply

Shoppers for peaches, the leading fresh fruit of summer, will soon find normal supplies at fruit counters, after an early season dearth, says Louise M. Kakargo, assistant home demonstration agent. Shoppers will also welcome the rapid descent of fresh peach prices from the sky-high levels of June and early July to near-average prices. The advent of the local season brings these two welcome changes in fresh peaches for consumers.

Freeze in South cut peach supplies. An early season freeze in the South cut early season peach supplies drastically. The cold chopped production in four main Southern states to only one-fifth that of 1963 and average. These states normally ship heavily to metropolitan markets in late May, June, and early July. Fresh peach prices advanced sharply as a result. Outside the belt of freezing weather, peach production will exceed last year and average, including the local crop.

Large Local Crop

The local crop is a large one this year and is presently forecast at almost 40 per cent greater than last year's rather reduced production and about 10 per cent greater than average. So shoppers will find fresh peach prices at near-average levels as local receipts expand.

Local season a little late but quality good. Local harvest of peaches has been retarded by perhaps a week because of dry weather earlier in the season. Many local growers have irrigation equipment and have made good use of it during the early dry spell to prevent cuts in yield.

The dry weather may prove a boon to peach eaters, however. Dry weather makes a high incidence of sunlight which is associated with a high sugar content. Sunlight assists the peach to manufacture sugar. Peaches that mature under dry conditions contain less moisture and therefore ship and store well. This year's local peach crop is reported to be remarkably free from disease.

Even though the general quality of this year's peaches is good, shoppers still need to make quality decisions when buying. Ripeness is the cardinal point in selecting quality peaches. Shoppers should remember that redness does not necessarily mean ripeness. The red blush of peaches is a characteristic that varies with the variety. The base or background color is more indicative of ripeness. Select peaches with a well-developed base color that is whitish for white-fleshed peaches or yellowish for yellow-fleshed peaches. Avoid a base color of green, a sign of immaturity. Select firm, fresh-looking peaches that are free from bruises, blemishes, and other defects. Chances are shoppers will find lots of them this season.

Canning, Freezing

Peaches for canning and freezing—Many homemakers like to can and freeze fresh peaches for later use. Shoppers who plan to buy in quantity for home canning and freezing should wait until later in the season for most favorable prices. At the present time, it appears likely that the lowest prices for fresh peaches will occur in mid and late August, about the usual time. Recommended varieties for canning or freezing that will be marketed after August 15 include Sunhigh, Blake, J. H. Hale, Hale Haven, Elberta, and Rio-Oso-Gem.

Look for plenty of canned peaches next winter—Production of clingstone peaches, used largely for canning, is now estimated for California at 15 per cent larger than 1963 and well above average. The cling crop is not always fully harvested and canned because of an elimination program of producers. Even so, this means an abundance of peaches for canning and a large canned pack for those who like peaches when the fresh season ends.

Not Taking Chances On Monkeys Smoking

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Officials of Asheville's Recreation Park Zoo don't necessarily think smoking contributes to cancer, but they don't want to take any chances with the monkeys.

Director Charles W. Dermind said Tuesday four or five persons have handed lighted cigarettes to monkeys since the zoo opened four years ago.

Dermind said he has no evidence the cigarettes harm the animals, but he issued a warning that persons caught giving cigarettes to the monkeys will be ordered from the park.

Dies of Electric Shock

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph Venis, 45, of Clearfield, Pa., died Tuesday night of electric shock while using an apparently improperly grounded power tool, police said.

He was placing panels on the roof of a bowling center, damaged by fire last winter.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The tools for expanding the machine age are going to pour forth in even greater volume in the months ahead. Both new orders and backlogs are piling up.

The soaring orders for machine tools mean a lot more than just prosperity for their makers.

More Mechanization
They are bets that manufacturers are laying that good times will be around for many months to come.

They forecast increased spending for business expansion.

They emphasize the trend toward still more mechanization. They reveal how relaxed depreciation regulations and lower tax rates are being put to use.

They are based on the belief that consumers will have more money to spend for manufactured goods and sturdy confidence in their ability to meet any debt payments for borrowing to spend.

The National Machine Tool Building Association says new orders in June reached $160.9 million, the highest for any month in eight years and more than double the volume in June 1963.

grown, lengthening delivery times. This in itself prods some manufacturers into ordering now, knowing they may have to wait to install the new machines they want for their modernization or expansion plans.

Machine tool making tends to be an up-and-down business. In bad times, or when a business downturn is expected, orders fall off fast as manufacturers pull in their horns.

Today with the economy in general growing steadily, the current sales, expectations of still better business conditions to come—corporations have been steadily raising their sights this year on their expansion plans. The sums that are tagged to flow into new plants and equipment this year are now put at $44 billion by the Department of Commerce.

Another is the continuing trend toward more mechanization, to bypass costly man labor and make more goods with less effort, faster, and in greater quantity.

Whatever their motives—more money in the till, better current sales, expectations of still better business conditions to come—corporations have been steadily raising their sights this year on their expansion plans. The sums that are tagged to flow into new plants and equipment this year are now put at $44 billion by the Department of Commerce.

The Hessian fly reached the U.S. during the Revolutionary War, coming to Long Island in straw the Hessian soldier brought for bedding.

RECEIVES PARVULI DEI AWARD—Cub Scout Robert D. Stenson Jr., who recently graduated from Pack 14, receives the Parvuli Dei Award during ceremonies Sunday at St. Peter's Church. Presenting the pin is the Rev. George Hein, assistant pastor. Others participating in the ceremony are (l-r) Michael Gallagher, altar boy; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Joseph D. Ostermann, pastor; and Timothy Stenson, (next to Father Hein) altar boy, and the scout's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Stenson of 97 Orchard Street, Kingston. (Freeman photo) and each of the existing services will be expanded. She said that psychological evaluation and consultation, occupational therapy, pre-vocational and vocational evaluation, and home-making services will be among the new services offered.

Rehabilitation Center Coming To Valley Area

Plans for the establishment of a regional rehabilitation center at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie were announced today by Dr. Hollis S. Igraham, New York State Department of Health commissioner.

Under terms of an agreement between the hospital and the health department, the rehabilitation center will receive up to $35,000 a year for rehabilitation personnel added to the hospital staff.

The Dutchess County center will be the 14th in a statewide plan which calls for a network of 12 primary centers affiliated with medical centers. The plan was developed at Governor Rockefeller's request with the help of the Committee on Rehabilitation of the Interdepartmental Health and Hospital Council which includes the departments of Health, Education, Insurance, Mental Hygiene and Social Welfare and the Governor's Council on Rehabilitation.

To Serve 60 Mile Radius
Sister M. Ann Elizabeth, administrator of St. Francis Hospital, said: "At present the only rehabilitation facilities available to people in the mid-Hudson area are the New York State Rehabilitation Center, West Haverstraw, and the Albany Medical Center, Albany. The St. Francis Hospital Rehabilitation Center will serve the community within a 60 mile radius which encompasses the whole of Dutchess and parts of Columbia, Greene, Putnam, Orange and Ulster counties."

The administrator said that renovations in the first and second floors on the Roosevelt wing of the Rehabilitation Center will be finished within a few months and each of the existing services will be expanded. She said that psychological evaluation and consultation, occupational therapy, pre-vocational and vocational evaluation, and home-making services will be among the new services offered.

Present for Signing
Present for the signing ceremonies were Robert Watson Pomeroy, Dutchess County assemblyman from Poughkeepsie; Sister M. Ann Elizabeth; Dr. Igraham; and Dr. Granville W. Larimore, first deputy commissioner, State Health Department.

Dr. Igraham complimented Sister M. Ann Elizabeth, board and staff members of the hospital, Mr. Pomeroy and other interested citizens for their active interest in the development of the new rehabilitation center.

"Establishment of this center represents an important step forward in providing better rehabilitation services and medical care for the people of Poughkeepsie and the mid-Hudson area," Dr. Igraham said.

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The tools for expanding the machine age are going to pour forth in even greater volume in the months ahead. Both new orders and backlogs are piling up.

The soaring orders for machine tools mean a lot more than just prosperity for their makers.

More Mechanization
They are bets that manufacturers are laying that good times will be around for many months to come.

They forecast increased spending for business expansion.

They emphasize the trend toward still more mechanization.

They reveal how relaxed depreciation regulations and lower tax rates are being put to use.

They are based on the belief that consumers will have more money to spend for manufactured goods and sturdy confidence in their ability to meet any debt payments for borrowing to spend.

The National Machine Tool Building Association says new orders in June reached $160.9 million, the highest for any month in eight years and more than double the volume in June 1963.

Unfilled Orders Grow
Orders for the first half of 1964 are almost double those in the like period of 1963. And the backlog of unfilled orders has grown, lengthening delivery times. This in itself prods some manufacturers into ordering now, knowing they may have to wait to install the new machines they want for their modernization or expansion plans.

Machine tool-making tends to be an up-and-down business. In bad times, or when a business downturn is expected, orders fall off fast as manufacturers pull in their horns.

Today with the economy in general growing steadily, the urge to buy tools to make the machines that turn out consumer products is mounting. This apparently is the main drive behind the June spurt in tool ordering.

Another is the continuing trend toward more mechanization, to bypass costly man labor and make more goods with less effort, faster, and in greater quantity.

Whatever their motives—more money in the till, better current sales, expectations of still better business conditions to come—corporations have been steadily raising their sights this year on their expansion plans. The sums that are tagged to flow into new plants and equipment this year are now put at $14 billion by the Department of Commerce.

Rehabilitation Center Coming To Valley Area

Plans for the establishment of a regional rehabilitation center at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie were announced today by Dr. Hollis S. Igraham, New York State Department of Health commissioner.

Under terms of an agreement between the hospital and the health department, the rehabilitation center will receive up to $35,000 a year for rehabilitation personnel added to the hospital staff.

The Dutchess County center will be the 14th in a statewide plan which calls for a network of 12 primary centers affiliated with medical centers. The plan was developed at Governor Rockefeller's request with the help of the Committee on Rehabilitation of the Interdepartmental Health and Hospital Council which includes the departments of Health, Education, Insurance, Mental Hygiene and Social Welfare and the Governor's Council on Rehabilitation.

To Serve 60 Mile Radius

Sister M. Ann Elizabeth, administrator of St. Francis Hospital, said, "At present the only rehabilitation facilities available to people in the mid-Hudson area are the New York State Rehabilitation Center, West Haverstraw, and the Albany Medical Center, Albany. The St. Francis Hospital Rehabilitation Center will serve the community within a 60 mile radius which encompasses the whole of Dutchess and parts of Columbia, Greene, Putnam, Orange and Ulster counties."

The administrator said that renovations in the first and second floors on the Roosevelt wing of the Rehabilitation Center will be finished within a few months and each of the existing services will be expanded. She said that psychological evaluation and consultation, occupational therapy, pre-vocational and vocational evaluation, and home-making services will be among the new services offered.

Present for Signing

Present for the signing ceremonies were Robert Watson Pomeroy, Dutchess County assemblyman from Poughkeepsie; Sister M. Ann Elizabeth; Dr. Igraham, and Dr. Granville W. Larimore, first deputy commissioner, State Health Department.

Dr. Igraham complimented Sister M. Ann Elizabeth, board and staff members of the hospital, Mr. Pomeroy and other interested citizens for their active interest in the development of the new rehabilitation center.

"Establishment of this center represents an important step forward in providing better rehabilitation services and medical care for the people of Poughkeepsie and the mid-Hudson area," Dr. Igraham said.

SEA VITAL TO MAN'S FUTURE

We hear a lot these days about the sea around us.

Not only is it the last great, and virtually unexplored, physical frontier that remains to challenge the energies of men. We are told that it is a vast repository of mineral wealth that will maintain the civilizations of the future long after land supplies are depleted.

It may be a distant day when minerals from the sea assume this role, and an even more distant time when men are forced by population pressures to take up living on or under the sea, as many predict will happen.

But already the increasing need for fresh water for industry and irrigation and everyday use is lending urgency to the development of economically feasible methods of extracting it from the sea.

And the harvesting of food from the sea, the mother of all life, is becoming a more and more important factor in the race between hunger and population growth.

We think of the sea as illimitable, just as men considered the New World four centuries ago. Like that exploited frontier, however, the sea is not inexhaustible, except perhaps in terms of water.

The best fishing banks are crowded with the boats of many nations. Iceland and England have been at odds over fishing rights and methods, as have the United States and Japan and Russia and other nations.

Even as the land is not uniformly productive, so it is with the world's oceans. Waters once teeming with fish have been known to become barren, whether through unexplained causes or through the actions of men. The economies of many peoples have risen and fallen with the changing fertility of the sea.

Hunting of the seal and whale, once wide open, has had to be regulated lest these creatures join the long list of animals—some of them sea animals—that have been driven to extinction by men.

But fishing of the sea is still largely a "catch as catch can" pursuit. One concerned party, Dr. Donovan B. Finn, a former fisheries official with the United Nations, has called for taking some of the effort now going into competitive exploitation of the sea and putting it into "a co-ordinated world-wide study of the sea and its living resources."

The United States and the Soviet Union are presently taking the first steps toward a co-operative investigation of desalting sea water.

Twelve nations, including the United States, are engaged in a two-year survey of the Indian Ocean with a view toward increasing the fish harvest so vital to the countries bordering it.

Perhaps these things can be the precedents for launching, not too far in the future, one of those world-wide scientific endeavors like the International Geophysical Year of the Year of the Quiet Sun—this one to be devoted to a broad-scale exploration of the sea and all its economic facets.

Such a "year of the sea" would range from a survey of its mineral wealth to the problems of fishing and atomic waste disposal, from discovering new sources of food to the working out of international codes to insure wise use of the sea's resources.

It's a vast and deep challenge, and a lot closer than the moon.

BONANZA IN PAY TV

Pay television, which has just been inaugurated in Los Angeles and soon will be in San Francisco, may strike it rich, after all. This is strongly indicated by findings reported in a recent survey of TV watchers.

Subscription Television, Inc., discovered that 71.5 per cent of those within the area which started to receive the service July 17 prefer sports to any other programming, and prefer baseball to football or basketball. But the big nugget uncovered by the poll is this: 52.6 per cent of those who said they prefer baseball never go to the ball park.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE VIEW FROM
THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Tarzana, Calif.—The Claytons, which is not their name but close enough to it, are a middle-aged couple whose home for years has been in the San Fernando Valley which is now part of greater Los Angeles. They are reasonable people who are for the conservative cause primarily because they don't like a political dispensation that forces young enterprisers to sell their businesses to big corporations in order to save at least some of the capital they have created for their families. The Claytons live in a tasteful house in Tarzana made by remodeling and adding to an old garage. The property once belonged to Edgar Rice Burroughs, whose novels about an English lord who grew up among the apes are probably more widely known around the world than the plays of Shakespeare. The fictitious man of the apes gave his name to Tarzana, but the tale is that Burroughs himself lost his extensive San Fernando Valley acreage to a bank in some unlucky shuffle, and the Claytons, who take Burroughs' side of a controversial story, are quick to tell you that capitalism has had a few shoddy phases.

Nevertheless, despite their reservations about accepting everything said by the "Far Right," the Claytons labored mightily in the primary that put Barry Goldwater over the hump in the run for the Republican presidential nomination. They claim they are rather typical of the Los Angeles and Orange County voters who saved the day for Barry in the nip-and-tuck hours of June 2, "I worked at local headquarters for Goldwater," says Mrs. Clayton, "and I can tell you who put him over. It wasn't any bunch of kooks or fanatic Far Rightists. The real power in the fight was provided by young married couples in the middle-income brackets who hope to keep something of what they make for their families. They are tired of having their property taxes doubled and redoubled every few years. They are tired of being bothered by Washington."

In casual talk not related to immediate political concerns, Mrs. Clayton inadvertently defined herself as a distinctly non-ideological conservative. She holds to former FCC man Newton Minow's opinion that commercial TV is a vast wasteland, and wonders whether government-owned broadcasting companies might not be the answer. She thinks Senator Ken Keating of New York State, who has reservations about supporting Goldwater, has a right to his opinions, and she didn't like the effort of reporters to pin Keating down to some controversial statement.

Mrs. Clayton's husband disagrees with her about government broadcasting. But he, too, defined himself as something considerably less than a political zealot. At the San Francisco convention he had read Phyllis Schlafly's influential pamphlet, "A Choice, Not an Echo," which paints a rather lurid picture of twenty years of conspiracy by the "eastern liberal Establishment" to control the Republican Party. The pamphlet seemed a bit crude to Mr. Clayton, who criticized it as being "oversimplified."

Mr. Clayton used to be in the aviation business; he trained pilots, and he once recruited personnel for Chennault's Flying Tigers in China. He and his wife lived in the Orient for many years—and one of the reasons they are for Goldwater is that they don't want to see the U.S. mired in the sort of interferences with personal and economic liberty that have gained such ground in the rest of the world. They are not against civil rights, but Mr. Clayton, who is currently in the real estate business, thinks people should have a right to sell and rent property to whom they please. Interference with this right, he says, can be enormously destructive of hard-earned values.

Coming back to the Los Angeles and Orange County vote that spelled all the difference in the Goldwater campaign, the Claytons betrayed their own political heat in dismissing the kook theory of Goldwater victory. Of the basis of the young married doorbell ringers who had worked with her at primary-day headquarters, Mrs. Clayton kept referring to the theme of "average folks." But it was the young average folks who did the work, she said—not the "old Republicans, who spend all their time sitting in arm-chairs and complaining."

The DOCTOR SAYS

X-Rays Should Be Taken
Of Whiplash Injuries

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you are sitting in a car that is suddenly and vigorously rammed from behind you may incur what is loosely known as a whiplash injury.

Your head weighs about 12 pounds. As your heavier body is forced forward, your head first snaps back, then, as if to catch up with the rest of your body, it snaps forward. A boxer may have a similar injury from a rabbit punch to the back of his neck.

Although this may cause tearing of a ligament, injury to one of the vertebrae of the neck or a rupture of one of the cartilage disks between the vertebrae, 94 per cent of all whiplash injuries are simple sprains which will get well spontaneously with little or no treatment.

Unfortunately, many of these injuries are over-treated with hot compresses, ultra-sound, diathermy and traction and are made worse, according to Dr. H. E. Crowe.

"In support of this belief he reported that many victims of auto accidents who suffered major fractures in addition to their whiplash injury at no time complained of whiplash nor had any after-effects of such an injury. They were too concerned with the broken arms or legs to worry about the minor injury to the neck."

When then should be done for a whiplash injury? Because this is not a simple disease, a very careful examination, including X-rays, by a competent physician is the first step. If the victim has incurred a simple sprain, a word of reassurance is often all that is needed. Cold compresses applied promptly following the injury and continued for 24 hours often gives marked relief. These are far less likely to do harm than hot compresses.

In those victims whose condition is more serious special tests are often necessary to determine the exact nature of the injury. When headaches persist for many months, operation on a cervical vertebra or disk may be the only treatment that will relieve pressure on a nerve and stop the pain.

Q—I have a Baker's cyst in the bend of my leg? What is the proper treatment?

A—Baker's cyst is a bursitis behind the knee joint. In adults it is most frequently seen in the 50s and may be due to arthritis, injury or unknown causes. Cortisone or a related drug injected into the area involved may prove beneficial but in most victims the cyst must be removed surgically.

This is understandable, traffic to the park being what it is. They follow the game by newspaper and radio. But when they can see a game at home for $1.50—this covers the entire family and as many guests as desired—the chances are good that they will subscribe to the service.

It also is highly probable that in another year or two pay television will have spread to other parts of the country. Owners and players see a bonanza—one which, if realized, will more than compensate for the sorrow of seeing more empty seats in the stands.

"Say, I Feel Pretty Comfortable in This One"

ROSS LEWIS, MILWAUKEE JOURNAL

Washington News

BY RAY CROMLEY

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Whipped jokes in Eastern Europe jab unmercifully at the Communist root of local troubles. Especially hard-hitting are the East German stories:

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, Lord Home and Khrushchev are driving to a summit conference when they see the devil hot on their trail. To placate him, Johnson throws out five $100 notes. The devil picks them up, counts them, throws them away contemptuously and continues after the car. "Not enough," Home says and throws the devil 10,000 pounds in notes. The devil stops, counts the notes, throws them away and hurries after the car.

At last Khrushchev takes an old envelope from his pocket, scribbles something on it and throws it from the car. The devil picks it up, reads it, blanches, swings around and tears off in the opposite direction.

"However did you do it, Nikita?" the Westerners ask. "Simple," Khrushchev replies. "I just wrote 'In two minutes we shall be entering the territory of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany).'"

WHEN ULBRICHT (East German Red boss) died he knocked at heaven's gate.

"What are you doing here?" St. Peter asked. "You belong down below."

A few days later three devils knocked and told St. Peter: "We are the first refugees."

PARTY MEMBERSHIP isn't popular in Poland. In Warsaw it's whispered that a Communist Party member who recruits a candidate for the party will have the right to tell political jokes. If he can rope in two candidates, he may resign from the party. Anyone who recruits three candidates will receive a certificate saying he has never been a party member.

THE COLLECTIVES are hated perhaps more than anything else the Reds have tried. In Hungary they say that in a certain Red bloc country the Council of Ministers met to discuss current business. The minister of agriculture was very depressed. Harvest prospects were poor. Tractors had broken down. Manpower was scarce on the collective farms. In short, there was no end to the difficulties.

A colleague tried to encourage him. "Cheer up. All these difficulties are temporary. There is no doubt communism will triumph in the end and spread worldwide."

The minister flung up his hands and whispered: "For heaven's sake, man, don't say things like that. Where would we import our grain from?"

MANY PEOPLE in Eastern Europe are especially bitter about the emphasis of Soviet and Red bloc production in space and war, while consumer needs go begging.

A friend called to see Soviet astronaut Col. Popovitch. His daughter Natasha opened the door.

"Is your father in?"

"No, comrade. He's flying around the earth and won't be back until noon."

"Can I see your mother then?"

"No, comrade. She went out early this morning to buy some meat and won't be back until tonight."

STRATEGISTS in the Kremlin were plotting war. "We could send 10 men to the United States with atom bombs in suitcases," suggested the leader. "One could go to New York, another to Detroit . . ."

"No," interrupted a comrade, "we couldn't do that."

"Why not?" We have plenty of atom bombs."

"Yes, but where are we going to get the 10 suitcases?"

Castro Supplies Proof On Red Invasion of Cuba

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Evidence just furnished from an unexpected quarter proves to the world how the Soviet Union has deliberately and of her own initiative invaded the Western Hemisphere as a means of carrying on the "cold war" against the United States.

Fidel Castro was amazingly frank when, in answering the questions of visiting newsmen a few days ago, he incriminated the Moscow government. He had been asked about how his relations with the Communists had developed. He said:

"Facts and events forced Cuba into the Soviet sphere. When the first American aggressions started against Cuba and when the first agrarian reform began, Cuba did not have any diplomatic or commercial relations with the Soviet Union. But every time the United States attacked us, they (the Soviets) made offers and solutions and that is why we slowly began friendship and ties with the Soviet Union."

The Moscow regime has insisted right along that it came to the aid of Cuba only because the government in Havana requested it. This is a historic form of alibi for intervention but, in the case of Cuba, the world now knows that Russia took the initiative.

Certainly the establishment of missile bases, fully equipped with weapons that could attack a large part of the territory of the United States, wasn't something dreamed up by Castro. Unfortunately, the United States has been willing virtually to close the books on the episode ever since Premier Khrushchev in October, 1962, promised the late President Kennedy that the missile bases would be dismantled and Soviet troops would be withdrawn. But the fact is that the government of the Soviet Union continues today to maintain a military force of its own in Cuba, and the missile bases can be reactivated at any time by the Russian "technicians" still on hand.

The Johnson administration has apparently decided to let matters drift, and to accept the assurances from Moscow that the troops will gradually be withdrawn. But nearly two years now have elapsed since the first promises were made, and they have not yet been completely fulfilled. It certainly shouldn't take two years to withdraw a few thousand troops.

While Soviet military personnel has been reduced, the UPI in a dispatch on Tuesday—attributed to Administration officials here as the source—said:

"The Russians are believed still in complete charge of the control center near Havana. This gives them a veto on any possible Cuban use of the missiles contrary to Soviet interest. Soviet Premier Khrushchev is believed to be reluctant to give Premier Castro complete control of the anti-aircraft missile system."

But why should any European government be keeping any of its missiles or other military equipment in any country in this hemisphere and controlling their use—especially on an island only 90 miles away from the coast of the United States?

The Soviet government, of course, continues also to operate its apparatus for subversion and espionage in many Latin-American countries including Mexico. It may be surprising to many people in the United States to learn that the Mexican government tolerates within its territory the presence of Communist plotters and agents. Just this week the government of Mexico refused to vote diplomatic and economic sanctions against Cuba, even though a majority of the members of the Organization of American States did so.

The future of the Western Hemisphere is very much the concern of the Washington government. Much publicity has been given in recent years to the "Alliance for Progress" concept. This, however, cannot succeed without money, and the people of this country are not likely to look with favor on the flow of funds to any Latin-American country which tolerates Communist espionage and the meddling by a European power in the affairs of the nations of this hemisphere.

As for the policy of the United States toward the Soviet Union, revelations such as Fidel Castro now has made official do not augur well for the success of "disarmament" talks or any other negotiations with the Moscow regime. So long as mutual trust has not been established, any agreements that may be made are valueless.

Unhappily, there is a "peace at any price" element in this country which believes in a soft policy toward Russia. This was emphasized recently by the reaction to the suggestion made by Sen. Goldwater that the question of continuing diplomatic relations with Moscow should be re-examined and that, unless Moscow agrees to abstain from certain acts of hostility toward this country, severance of diplomatic relations should be considered. But the Arizona Senator was jumped on by critics for even raising the subject. Presumably, that's why Moscow feels confident it can continue unchecked its acts of aggression and the flouting of the Washington government's policies in this hemisphere.

SEA VITAL TO MAN'S FUTURE

We hear a lot these days about the sea around us.

Not only is it the last great, and virtually unexplored, physical frontier that remains to challenge the energies of men. We are told that it is a vast repository of mineral wealth that will maintain the civilizations of the future long after land supplies are depleted.

It may be a distant day when minerals from the sea assume this role, and an even more distant time when men are forced by population pressures to take up living on or under the sea, as many predict will happen.

But already the increasing need for fresh water for industry and irrigation and everyday use is lending urgency to the development of economically feasible methods of extracting it from the sea.

And the harvesting of food from the sea, the mother of all life, is becoming a more and more important factor in the race between hunger and population growth.

We think of the sea as illimitable, just as men considered the New World four centuries ago. Like that exploited frontier, however, the sea is not inexhaustible, except perhaps in terms of water.

The best fishing banks are crowded with the boats of many nations. Iceland and England have been at odds over fishing rights and methods, as have the United States and Japan and Russia and other nations.

Even as the land is not uniformly productive, so it is with the world's oceans. Waters once teeming with fish have been known to become barren, whether through unexplained causes or through the actions of men. The economies of many peoples have risen and fallen with the changing fertility of the sea.

Hunting of the seal and whale, once wide open, has had to be regulated lest these creatures join the long list of animals—some of them sea animals—that have been driven to extinction by men.

But fishing of the sea is still largely a "catch as catch can" pursuit. One concerned party, Dr. Donovan B. Finn, a former fisheries official with the United Nations, has called for taking some of the effort now going into competitive exploitation of the sea and putting it into "a co-ordinated world-wide study of the sea and its living resources."

The United States and the Soviet Union are presently taking the first steps toward a co-operative investigation of desalting sea water.

Twelve nations, including the United States, are engaged in a two-year survey of the Indian Ocean with a view toward increasing the fish harvest so vital to the countries bordering it.

Perhaps these things can be the precedents for launching, not too far in the future, one of those world-wide scientific endeavors like the International Geophysical Year of the Year of the Quiet Sun—this one to be devoted to a broad-scale exploration of the sea and all its economic facets.

Such a "year of the sea" would range from a survey of its mineral wealth to the problems of fishing and atomic waste disposal, from discovering new sources of food to the working out of international codes to insure wise use of the sea's resources.

It's a vast and deep challenge, and a lot closer than the moon.

BONANZA IN PAY TV

Pay television, which has just been inaugurated in Los Angeles and soon will be in San Francisco, may strike it rich, after all. This is strongly indicated by findings reported in a recent survey of TV watchers.

Subscription Television, Inc., discovered that 71.5 per cent of those within the area which started to receive the service July 17 prefer sports to any other programming, and prefer baseball to football or basketball. But the big nugget uncovered by the poll is this: 52.6 per cent of those who said they prefer baseball never go to the ball park.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE VIEW FROM
THE SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

Tarzana, Calif.—The Claytons, which is not their name but close enough to it, are a middle-aged couple whose home for years has been in the San Fernando Valley which is now part of greater Los Angeles. They are reasonable people who are for the conservative cause primarily because they don't like a political dispensation that forces young enterprisers to sell their businesses to big corporations in order to save at least some of the capital they have created for their families. The Claytons live in a tasteful house in Tarzana made by remodeling and adding to an old garage. The property once belonged to Edgar Rice Burroughs, whose novels about an English lord who grew up among the apes are probably more widely known around the world than the plays of Shakespeare. The fictitious man of the apes gave his name to Tarzana, but the tale is that Burroughs himself lost his extensive San Fernando Valley acreage to a bank in some unlucky shuffle, and the Claytons, who take Burroughs' side of a controversial story, are quick to tell you that capitalism has had a few shoddy phases.

Nevertheless, despite their reservations about accepting everything said by the "Far Right," the Claytons labored mightily in the primary that put Barry Goldwater over the hump in the run for the Republican presidential nomination. They claim they are rather typical of the Los Angeles and Orange County voters who saved the day for Barry in the nip-and-tuck hours of June 2. "I worked at local headquarters for Goldwater," says Mrs. Clayton, "and I can tell you who put him over. It wasn't any bunch of kooks or fanatic Far Rightists. The real power in the fight was provided by young married couples in the middle income brackets who hope to keep something of what they make for their families. They are tired of having their property taxes doubled and redoubled every few years. They are tired of being bothered by Washington."

In casual talk not related to immediate political concerns, Mrs. Clayton inadvertently defined herself as a distinctly non-ideological conservative. She holds to former FCC man Newton Minow's opinion that commercial TV is a vast wasteland, and wonders whether government-owned broadcasting companies might not be the answer. She thinks Senator Ken Keating of New York State, who has reservations about supporting Goldwater, has a right to his opinions, and she didn't like the effort of reporters to pin Keating down to some controversial statement.

Mrs. Clayton's husband disagrees with her about government broadcasting. But he, too, de-fined himself as something considerably less than a political zealot. At the San Francisco convention he had read Phyllis Schlafly's influential pamphlet, "A Choice, Not an Echo," which paints a rather lurid picture of twenty years of conspiracy by the "eastern liberal Establishment" to control the Republican Party. The pamphlet seemed a bit crude to Mr. Clayton, who criticized it as being "oversimplified."

Mr. Clayton used to be in the aviation business; he trained pilots, and he once recruited personnel for Chennault's Flying Tigers in China. He and his wife lived in the Orient for many years—and one of the reasons they are for Goldwater is that they don't want to see the U.S. meshed in the sort of interferences with personal and economic liberty that have gained such ground in the rest of the world. They are not against civil rights, but Mr. Clayton, who is currently in the real estate business, thinks people should have a right to sell and rent property to whom they please. Interference with this right, he says, can be enormously destructive of hard-earned values.

Coming back to the Los Angeles and Orange County vote that spelled all the difference in the Goldwater campaign, the Claytons betrayed their only political heat in dismissing the kook theory of Goldwater victory. Of the basis of the young married doorbell ringers who had worked with her at primary-day headquarters, Mrs. Clayton kept referring to the theme of "average folks." But it was the young average folks who did the work, she said—not the "old Republicans, who spend all their time sitting in arm-chairs and complaining."

The DOCTOR SAYS

Of Whiplash Injuries

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

When you are sitting in a car that is suddenly and virogorously rammed from behind you may incur what is loosely known as a whiplash injury.

Your head weighs about 12 pounds. As your heavier body is forced forward, your head first snaps back, then, as if to catch up with the rest of your body, it snaps forward. A boxer may have a similar injury from a rabbit punch to the back of his neck.

Although this may cause tearing of a ligament, injury to one of the vertebrae of the neck or a rupture of one of the cartilage disks between the vertebrae, 94 per cent of all whiplash injuries are simple sprains which will get well spontaneously with little or no treatment.

Unfortunately, many of these injuries are over-treated with hot compresses, ultra-sound, diathermy and traction and are made worse, according to Dr. H. E. Crowe.

"In support of this belief he reported that many victims of auto accidents who suffered major fractures in addition to their whiplash injury at no time complained of whiplash nor had any after-effects of such an injury. They were too concerned with the broken arms or legs to worry about the minor injury to the neck.

What then should be done for a whiplash injury? Because this is not a single disease, a very careful examination, including X-rays, by a competent physician is the first step. If the victim has incurred a simple sprain, a word of reassurance is often all that is needed. Cold compresses applied promptly following the injury and continued for 24 hours often gives marked relief. These are far less likely to do harm than hot compresses.

In those victims whose condition is more serious special tests are often necessary to determine the exact nature of the injury. When headaches persist for many months, operation on a cervical vertebra or disk may be the only treatment that will relieve pressure on a nerve and stop the pain.

Q—I have a Baker's cyst in the bend of my leg? What is the proper treatment?

A—Baker's cyst is a bursitis behind the knee joint. In adults it is most frequently seen in the 50s and may be due to arthritis, injury or unknown causes. Cortisone or a related drug injected into the area involved may prove beneficial but in most victims the cyst must be removed surgically

This is understandable, traffic to the park being what it is. They follow the game by newspaper and radio. But when they can see a game at home for $1.50—this covers the entire family and as many guests as desired—the chances are good that they will subscribe to the service.

It also is highly probable that in another year or two pay television will have spread to other parts of the country. Owners and players see a bonanza—one which, if realized, will more than compensate for the sorrow of seeing more empty seats in the stands.

"Say, I Feel Pretty Comfortable in This One"

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Whipped jokes in Eastern Europe jab unmercifully at the Communist root of local troubles.

Especially hard-hitting are the East German stories:

PRESIDENT JOHNSON, Lord Home and Khrushchev are driving to a summit conference when they see the devil hot on their trail. To placate him, Johnson throws out five $100 notes. The devil picks them up, counts them, throws them away contemptuously and continues after the car.

"Not enough," Home says and throws the devil 10,000 pounds in notes. The devil stops, counts the notes, throws them away and hurries after the car.

At last Khrushchev takes an old envelope from his pocket, scribbles something on it and throws it from the car. The devil picks it up, reads it, blanches, swings around and tears off in the opposite direction.

"However did you do it, Nikita?" the Westerners ask. "Simple," Khrushchev replies. "I just wrote 'In two minutes we shall be entering the territory of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany)!'"

WHEN ULBRICHT (East German Red boss) died he knocked at heaven's gate. "What are you doing here?" St. Peter asked. "You belong down below."

A few days later three devils knocked and told St. Peter: "We are the first refugees."

PARTY MEMBERSHIP isn't popular in Poland. In Warsaw it's whispered that a Communist Party member who recruits a candidate for the party will have the right to tell political jokes. If he can rope in two candidates, he may resign from the party. Anyone who recruits three candidates will receive a certificate saying he has never been a party member.

THE COLLECTIVES are hated perhaps more than anything else the Reds have tried. In Hungary they say that in a certain Red bloc country the Council of Ministers met to discuss current business. The minister of agriculture was very depressed. Harvest prospects were poor. Tractors had broken down. Manpower was scarce on the collective farms. In short, there was no end to the difficulties.

A colleague tried to encourage him. "Cheer up. All these difficulties are temporary. There is no doubt communism will triumph in the end and spread worldwide."

The minister flung up his hands and whispered: "For heaven's sake, man, don't say things like that. Where would we import our grain from?"

MANY PEOPLE in Eastern Europe are especially bitter about the emphasis of Soviet and Red bloc production in space and war, while consumer needs go begging.

A friend called to see Soviet astronaut Col. Popovitch. His daughter Natasha opened the door. "Is your father in?" "No, comrade. He's flying around the earth and won't be back until noon."

"Can I see your mother then?" "No, comrade. She went out early this morning to buy some meat and won't be back until tonight."

STRATEGISTS in the Kremlin were plotting war. "We could send 10 men to the United States with atom bombs in suitcases," suggested the leader. "One could go to New York, another to Detroit..." "No," interrupted a comrade. "We couldn't do that." "Why not? We have plenty of atom bombs?" "Yes, but where are we going to get the 10 suitcases?"

Castro Supplies Proof On Red Invasion of Cuba

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Evidence just furnished from an unexpected quarter proves to the world how the Soviet Union has deliberately and of her own initiative invaded the Western Hemisphere as a means of carrying on the "cold war" against the United States.

Fidel Castro was amazingly frank when, in answering the questions of visiting newsmen a few days ago, he incriminated the Moscow government. He had been asked about how his relations with the Communists had developed. He said:

"Facts and events forced Cuba into the Soviet sphere. When the first American aggression started against Cuba and when the first agrarian reform began, Cuba did not have any diplomatic or commercial relations with the Soviet Union. But every time the United States attacked us, they (the Soviets) made offers and solutions and that is why we slowly began friendship and ties with the Soviet Union."

The Moscow regime has insisted right along that it came to the aid of Cuba only because the government in Havana requested it. This is a historic form of alibi for intervention but, in the case of Cuba, the world now knows that Russia took the initiative. Certainly the establishment of missile bases, fully equipped with weapons that could attack a large part of the territory of the United States, wasn't something dreamed up by Castro.

Woodstock Fire Co. Assistant Chief Resigns

The resignation of Milton Coombs, assistant chief, a demonstration of the use of a resuscitator, and plans for the annual picnic, were matters considered by the quarterly four-company meeting of the Woodstock Fire Department, held at the Zena firehouse Monday evening.

Approximately 40 members of the four Woodstock fire companies were present at the meeting which accepted the resignation of Assistant Chief Milton Coombs with regret and petitioned the Board of Fire Commissioners to accept the resignation and to award Coombs an exempt certificate. Coombs was not present at the meeting but presented his request for relief from duty through a letter which stated that his action "was due to personal reasons." He expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the entire department.

Demonstration of the use of a resuscitator, and the display of other fire fighting equipment, was presented by the Nichol's Oxygen Service of Hyde Park. Three of the resuscitation machines, two in Company No. 1 and the other at Company No. 3, are now in use in the department.

September 13 at Wittenberg is the date of the four-company picnic. Activities will begin at 10 a. m., with members and families scheduled to sign up for the picnic with the secretaries of the four fire companies.

The matter of compliance with a new state law regarding the sounding of fire sirens on all firehouses in a 24-hour period, brought a report that both Companies 3 and 4, in Lake Hill and Zena respectively, had ordered the necessary apparatus for the automatic sounding of their sirens at the noon hour. Companies 1 and 2 have been following this practice for sometime.

The Woodstock Fire Department will participate in the annual parade in Rosendale on August 8 at 5 p. m. Members of the department were requested to notify the secretary of Company No. 1 as to their intentions of parading.

Solutions as Complex As Lakes' Problems

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Experts from two nations agreed Tuesday that solutions to the $100 million question of Great Lakes' water levels are as complex and massive as the problems.

Greatest backing was given to man-made control over the combined average of 704,000 cubic feet (5,266 gallons) of water that flows out of the lakes a second. This was termed a billion-dollar project by the University of Toronto expert.

It is less a question of getting more water than it is of regulating what is already there, several experts said.

"There is no short, cheap answer," Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told some 225 water experts, government officials, and industrialists from eight Great Lakes states and Canada at the Conference on Great Lakes Water Levels of Michigan State University.

The conference was prompted by record low levels of the lakes which have been falling steadily since 1960, due primarily to a lack of rainfall in the Great Lakes Basin.

Sachs Harbour is the only settlement on Banks Island in the Canadian Arctic, a wind-whipped land mass about the size of West Virginia.

Companies will be held at the firehouse in Woodstock on Monday, October 26, beginning at 8 p. m. with Fire Company No. 1 as host.

Faubus Primary Winner, Readies For Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ar. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus won an easy, six-term nomination in Tuesday's Arkansas Democratic primary and moved immediately to unite his party for a fall campaign against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

Calling his three primary opponents "fine men" in a victory statement, Faubus said he would need help from their supporters in his race against the "millionaire candidate."

Points to Control
Rockefeller spent the evening of the election organizing his support in northeast Arkansas. He said Faubus' victory proved what he had said all along—that Faubus controls Arkansas.

With returns from 2,217 of the state's 2,325 precincts almost complete, The Associated Press count showed:

Faubus 220,669, Odell Dorsey 62,001, Joe Hubbard 34,892 and R. D. Burrow 15,739.

Political Unknowns
Dorsey, Hubbard and Burrow were political unknowns. Only Dorsey had enough financing to open a statewide headquarters and conduct a regular campaign.

Veteran Reps. E. C. Gathings and Oren Harris won renomination and re-election, since they have no Republican opponents.

In a Republican primary in the 3rd District, Jerry Hinshaw,

a poultry firm executive from Springdale, defeated Hal Cochran of Fort Smith for the right to oppose Rep. J. W. Trimble, Democrat, in November.

Resident Since 1953

Rep. Wilbur Mills chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had no opposition in the 2nd District.

Rockefeller is the brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and grandson of John D. Rockefeller. He moved to Arkansas in 1953 and quickly became a business and civic leader.

Fair Helps Increase Thruway Revenues

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Tourist traffic to the New York World's Fair helped swell the State Thruway Authority's revenues for the first six months of this year to $30,595,686, up 8.52 percent from the corresponding period in 1963.

The Authority said Tuesday in reporting the increase that fairbound motorists had figured in the increase to 1.2 billion miles traveled on the Thruway. This total represents a rise of 9.1 percent over last year's figures for the first half.

Keating Warns On Promises of Instant Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., warned today against what he called "intoxicating promises of instant victory" and easy solutions to complicated international problems.

He mentioned no names in a speech prepared for the weekly luncheon of the Overseas Press Club but said both political parties should place less emphasis on quick, easy solutions to problems and more emphasis on determined, long-term commitments.

Keating blamed what he called extremists for part of the tendency to oversimplify issues because, he said, they see problems only in black and white terms "and shape their tirades accordingly."

Communists are confident and patient in their fight, he said, and "we must wage our own campaign for victory just as confidently and patiently."

Missile Destroyer Is Renamed for Navy Man

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The guided missile destroyer Biddle, selected earlier this year for test use of a multinational crew, has been renamed after a pioneer of the mixed crew concept.

She was renamed the USS Claude V. Ricketts Tuesday in honor of the late chief of naval operations.

The multinational crew aboard the Ricketts is a step toward a proposed mixed-crew nuclear fleet of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Most buyers plan to step up advertising promotion for April in an effort to offset a feared post-Easter lull. Most are generally optimistic about the season, although some are cautious.

Some stores admit that they had overestimated the sales value of an early Easter. "We were prepared for a very big month," said one midtown store.

Wallace's has marked down its merchandise to meet the competition. The jacket sale was sold at $150. The jacket sale was sold at $150.

OF one leading department store, "the influence of Easter has been greatly reduced."

Several midtown stores noted a slight increase in the sale of a ranch mink coats but the mink coats were sold at $150.

Woodstock Fire Co. Assistant Chief Resigns

The resignation of Milton Coombs, assistant chief, a demonstration of the use of a resuscitator, and plans for the annual picnic, were matters considered by the quarterly four-company meeting of the Woodstock Fire Department, held at the Zena firehouse Monday evening.

Approximately 40 members of the four Woodstock fire companies were present at the meeting which accepted the resignation of Assistant Chief Milton Coombs with regret and petitioned the Board of Fire Commissioners to accept the resignation and to award Coombs an exempt certificate. Coombs was not present at the meeting but presented his request for relief from duty through a letter which stated that his action "was due to personal reasons." He expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the entire department.

Demonstration of the use of a resuscitator, and the display of other fire fighting equipment, was presented by the Nichol's Oxygen Service of Hyde Park. Three of the resuscitation machines, two in Company No. 1 and the other at Company No. 3, are now in use in the department.

September 13 at Wittenberg is the date of the four-company picnic. Activities will begin at 10 a. m., with members and families scheduled to sign up for the picnic with the secretaries of the four fire companies.

The matter of compliance with a new state law regarding the sounding of fire sirens on all firehouses in a 24-hour period, brought a report that both Companies 3 and 4, in Lake Hill and Zena respectively, had ordered the necessary apparatus for the automatic sounding of their sirens at the noon hour. Companies 1 and 2 have been following this practice for sometime.

The matter of the issuance of burning permits in the township was still a matter of some confusion. Fire Chief George Haythorne pointed out that the township was in the boundaries of the state parkland and that permits to burn were a matter of state regulation and therefore in the hands of the Conservation department.

The Woodstock Fire Department will participate in the annual parade in Rosendale on August 8 at 5 p. m. Members of the department were requested to notify the secretary of Company No. 1 as to their intentions of parading.

Solutions as Complex As Lakes' Problems

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Experts from two nations agreed Tuesday that solutions to the $100 million question of Great Lakes' water levels are as complex and massive as the problems.

Greatest backing was given to man-made control over the combined average of 704,000 cubic feet (5,266 gallons) of water that flows out of the lakes a second. This was termed a billion-dollar project by the University of Toronto expert.

It is less a question of getting more water than it is of regulating what is already there, several experts said.

"There is no short, cheap answer," Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told some 225 water experts, government officials, and industrialists from eight Great Lakes states and Canada at the Conference on Great Lakes Water Levels of Michigan State University.

The conference was prompted by record low levels of the lakes which have been falling steadily since 1960, due primarily to a lack of rainfall in the Great Lakes Basin.

Sachs Harbour is the only settlement on Banks Island in the Canadian Arctic, a wind-whipped land mass about the size of West Virginia.

companies will be held at the firehouse in Woodstock on Monday, October 26, beginning at 8 p. m. with Fire Company No. 1 as host.

Faubus Primary Winner, Readies For Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK, Ar. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus won an easy, six-term nomination in Tuesday's Arkansas Democratic primary and moved immediately to unite his party for a fall campaign against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller.

Calling his three primary opponents "fine men" in a victory statement, Faubus said he would need help from their supporters in his race against the "millionaire candidate."

Points to Control

Rockefeller spent the evening of the election organizing his support in northeast Arkansas. He said Faubus' victory proved what he had said all along—that Faubus controls Arkansas.

With returns from 2,217 of the state's 2,325 precincts almost complete, The Associated Press count showed:

Faubus 220,669, Odell Dorsey 62,001, Joe Hubbard 34,892 and R. D. Burrow 15,759.

Political Unknowns

Dorsey, Hubbard and Burrow were political unknowns. Only Dorsey had enough financing to open a statewide headquarters and conduct a regular campaign.

Veteran Reps. E. C. Gathings and Oren Harris won re-election, since they have no Republican opponents.

In a Republican primary in the 3rd District, Jerry Hinshaw,

a poultry firm executive from Springdale, defeated Hal Cochran of Fort Smith for the right to oppose Rep. J. W. Trimble, Democrat, in November.

Resident Since 1953

Rep. Wilbur Mills chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, had no opposition in the 2nd District.

Rockefeller is the brother of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and grandson of John D. Rockefeller. He moved to Arkansas in 1953 and quickly became a business and civic leader.

Fair Helps Increase Thruway Revenues

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Tourist traffic to the New York World's Fair helped swell the State Thruway Authority's revenues for the first six months of this year to $30,595,686, up 8.52 percent from the corresponding period in 1963.

The Authority said Tuesday in reporting the increase that fairbound motorists had figured in the increase to 1.2 billion miles traveled on the Thruway. This total represents a rise of 9.1 percent over last year's figures for the first half.

Keating Warns On Promises of Instant Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., warned today against what he called "intoxicating promises of instant victory" and easy solutions to complicated international problems.

He mentioned no names in a speech prepared for the weekly luncheon of the Overseas Press Club but said both political parties should place less emphasis on quick, easy solutions to problems and more emphasis on determined, long-term commitments.

Keating blamed what he called extremists for part of the tendency to oversimplify issues because, he said, they see problems only in black and white terms "and shape their tirades accordingly."

Communists are confident and patient in their fight, he said, and "we must wage our own campaign for victory just as confidently and patiently."

Missile Destroyer Is Renamed for Navy Man

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The guided missile destroyer Biddle, selected earlier this year for test use of a multinational crew, has been renamed after a pioneer of the mixed crew concept.

She was renamed the USS

Claude V. Ricketts Tuesday in honor of the late chief of naval operations.

The multinational crew aboard the Ricketts is a step toward a proposed mixed-crew nuclear fleet of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

we're turning approximately 50 per cent more of our year's figures," said the buyer of one midtown department store, "but it would be presumptuous to say that we are ahead of the game."

Most buyers plan to step up advertising promotion for April in an effort to offset a feared post-Easter lag. Most are generally optimistic about the Easter shopping season, although some are cautious.

Some stores admit that they had overestimated the sales value of an early Easter. "We were prepared for a very busy month," said one buyer, "but we were not prepared for the early start."

The lamb jackets were sold at $150, $200 and $250.

Several stores reported an increase in the sale of a new line of coats.

Georgia Sending 4 Negroes to Democrat Parley

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Georgia's delegation to the Democratic National Convention — including Negroes for the first time — "is made up of loyal Democrats who represent our party," says Gov. Carl Sanders.

The names of the 64 delegates and 52 of 53 alternates were announced Tuesday by Sanders and Travis Stewart, executive director of the Georgia Democratic party. Four Negroes — two delegates and two alternates — were included on the list of those who will go to the convention opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

There was only one Negro — an alternate — among the Georgia delegation to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

Sanders, asked the significance of including Negroes among the Democratic delegation, replied:

"This is not a social club. This is a political organization and it is right and proper that we have a cross section of the voters of the state represented. This delegation is made up of loyal Democrats who represent our party."

Missing from the list — at their request — are U.S. Sens. Richard B. Russell and Herman Talmadge. Both said they had previous commitments, but Talmadge stated flatly that he is still a Democrat.

The Negro delegates are State Sen. Leroy Johnson and attorney A. T. Walden, both of Atlanta. Johnson is the first Negro to win election to the legislature in half a century. Walden is a political power in Atlanta who worked for the Democratic party in the 1960 presidential election.

The alternates are T. B. Hooper of Macon and Mrs. P. Q. Yancy of Atlanta.

Steel Firm Boss Says Outlook Is Good Full Year

NEW YORK (AP) — The outlook for the economy and the steel industry appears good for the balance of the year, says Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp.

He made the observation at a news conference Tuesday after U.S. Steel reported earnings for the three months ended June 30.

The company, largest steel maker in the country, earned $60,696,096, or $1 a share, in the second quarter. This compared with $73,214,182 or $1.23 a share, in the 1963 second quarter and $51,546,002, or 84 cents a share, in the first quarter of this year.

In the first half, U.S. Steel's profits totaled $112,242,098, or $1.84 a share, against $103,132,956, or $1.67 a share in the 1963 first half.

Directors declared a regular dividend of 50 cents a share, payable Sept. 10 to stockholders of record Aug. 7.

Republic Steel, No. 3 in the industry, reported earlier that its earnings fell to $17,765,078, or $1.13 a share, in the second quarter from $21,993,374, or $1.40 a share, in the like 1963 period.

Blough said the economy seems to be "on an even keel" and "one could be modestly optimistic about the rest of the year."

Passed by Senate House Expected To Kill Meat Import Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials today looked to the House to kill a meat import quota bill passed by an overwhelming 72-15 Senate margin.

The legislation, long sought by the livestock industry, won votes from 50 Democrats and 22 Republicans late Tuesday after a six-hour Senate debate.

Only nine Democrats and six Republicans, mostly from large consumer states, opposed it.

The bill would establish quotas on beef, veal and mutton imports based on 1959-63 levels. This would mean a cut to about 1.2 billion pounds from the record 1.7 billion level of last year — a 30 per cent reduction.

The bill's foes said the measure had a strong political appeal in the Senate because the cattle industry has become nationwide and affects a majority of the states.

But they argued the bill would inevitably lead to higher prices and that the consumer interest would be more important in the House.

The administration was counting on the strong liberal trade majority in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles all such legislation, to defeat the meat bill.

The measure's Senate supporters said that meat imports rose to record levels last year and that this was the biggest factor in a severe price drop to the lowest point in 18 years.

Coast Guard Offers September Openings

It was announced today by Thomas F. Dudley, local Coast Guard recruiter, that the Coast Guard will have vacancies for enlistment during September and other fall months.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 26 are invited to contact the recruiter nearest there home.

Due to the limited amount of openings in the Coast Guard, enlistments will be set up on the first come, first serve basis. The 'buddy program' is also being offered to those young men who wish to enlist and serve together through basic training.

Further information about the Coast Guard may be obtained by calling the recruiting office in Albany or with the recruiter at the Old Post Office Building, Albany.

Thant, Nik Meet

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant met Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the Kremlin today for talks on the Soviet Union's overdue debts for its share of U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant handed the premier a richly engraved Burmese silver bowl which Khrushchev admiringly said was "beautiful and should be exhibited in a museum."

Under the U.N. Charter, the Soviet Union could lose its General Assembly vote this fall if it does not pay part of the debt. Soviet spokesmen have contended that this would wreck the world organization.

Ship Blast Sabotage

CAIRO (AP) — The explosion which blew up the Egyptian ammunition ship Star of Alendria in Bone harbor was an act of sabotage, the newspaper Al-Ahram claimed today.

The newspaper said Egyptian frogmen working in the wreckage found explosives which were not part of the ship's cargo.

Last reports from Algeria said 108 persons were killed in the explosion.

Fatality Victim's Kin Collapses, Taken Home

Mrs. Stella Futterweit of Queens Boulevard, Forest Hills, mother of Mrs. Ilona Lichtblaugh, 40, who was fatally injured Sunday when a car operated by her husband went out of control on Route 28, Town of Shandaken, was taken to her home in Forest Hills Tuesday by Doctor's Ambulance.

Notified of the death of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Futterweit came to Kingston where she collapsed and after being treated at Kingston Hospital, was removed to her home.

The accident happened when the driver of the car was stung in the face by a bee. The station wagon went out of control and struck a tree. All five persons in the vehicle were injured. The car was operated by Leo Lichtblaugh, of Roslyn Heights, L. I.

French Hurl Insults at Viet Natives

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — About 20 angry French men and women gathered today at the remains of a French war monument wrecked by Vietnamese students and hurled insults at passing natives.

"Fight the live enemy of the present, the Viet Cong, and not the dead enemy of the past," one Frenchman shouted to Vietnamese standing near the remnants of the memorial in downtown Saigon.

Police dispersed the French without violence when a group of Vietnamese students arrived and a clash threatened.

Students wrecked the huge bronze monument to France's war dead Tuesday night in a demonstration against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal that Viet Nam be neutralized and the war against the Communist Viet Cong ended.

As police stood by with hands folded, screaming youths pulled down a 30-foot statue of two French infantrymen and towed it off. They also toppled a bronze female figure representing peace.

The students wound up their demonstration with speeches calling for a break in relations with France, and expansion of the war against the Communist to North Viet Nam.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist air force said a navigational error by the lead plane apparently caused the crash of three military transport planes into a mountain in south Formosa.

Urges U.S. Mayors Take Initiative On Youth Corps

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has urged the nation's mayors to take the initiative in forming home-town youth corps which would be authorized by the antipoverty bill before Congress.

He told the annual American Municipal Association convention Tuesday that 90 days after passage of the bill, the federal government would be ready to help enlist 150,000 unemployed boys and girls between 16 and 21 in such corps for job training and placement. He placed the number of unemployed persons in that age bracket at 1,200,000. "The next move is up to you," Wirtz told 800 municipal leaders.

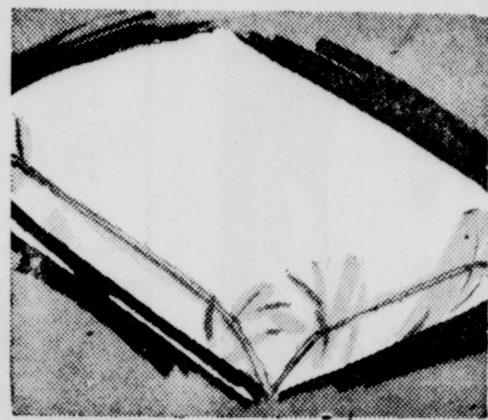

He said every local dollar spent on a youth corps would be matched by nine federal dollars.

Passed by Senate House Expected To Kill Meat Import Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials today looked to the House to kill a meat import quota bill passed by an overwhelming 72-15 Senate margin.

The legislation, long sought by the livestock industry, won votes from 50 Democrats and 22 Republicans late Tuesday after a six-hour Senate debate.

Only nine Democrats and six Republicans, mostly from large consumer states, opposed it.

The bill would establish quotas on beef, veal and mutton imports based on 1959-63 levels. This would mean a cut to about 1.2 billion pounds from the record 1.7 billion level of last year — a 30 per cent reduction.

The bill's foes said the measure had a strong political appeal in the Senate because the cattle industry has become nationwide and affects a majority of the states.

But they argued the bill would inevitably lead to higher prices and that the consumer interest would be more important in the House.

The administration was counting on the strong liberal trade majority in the House Ways and Means Committee, which handles all such legislation, to defeat the meat bill.

The measure's Senate supporters said that meat imports rose to record levels last year and that this was the biggest factor in a severe price drop to the lowest point in 18 years.

Coast Guard Offers September Openings

It was announced today by Thomas F. Dudley, local Coast Guard recruiter, that the Coast Guard will have vacancies for enlistment during September and other fall months.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 26 are invited to contact the recruiter nearest their home.

Due to the limited amount of openings in the Coast Guard, enlistments will be set up on the first come, first serve basis. The 'buddy program' is also being offered to those young men who wish to enlist and serve together through basic training.

Further information about the Coast Guard may be obtained by calling the recruiting office in Albany or with the recruiter at the Old Post Office Building, Albany.

Thant, Nik Meet

MOSCOW (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant met Soviet Premier Khrushchev in the Kremlin today for talks on the Soviet Union's overdue debts for its share of U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Thant handed the premier a richly engraved Burmese silver bowl which Khrushchev admiringly said was "beautiful and should be exhibited in a museum."

Under the U.N. Charter, the Soviet Union could lose its General Assembly vote this fall if it does not pay part of the debt. Soviet spokesmen have contended that this would wreck the world organization.

Grannie House Wrecker

MANCHESTER, Conn. (AP) — Betty Choman is a 112-pound grandmother who wrecks houses.

She is the foreman of a five-man wrecking gang, and the members of the gang say she is a working boss.

Mrs. Choman and her husband, Anthony, own the demolition firm, but her husband also is a printing department supervisor, so she has complete charge.

Ship Blast Sabotage

CAIRO (AP) — The explosion which blew up the Egyptian ammunition ship Star of Alexandria in Bone harbor was an act of sabotage, the newspaper Al-Ahram claimed today.

The newspaper said Egyptian frogmen working in the wreckage found explosives which were not part of the ship's cargo.

Fatality Victim's Kin Collapses, Taken Home

Mrs. Stella Futterweit of Queens Boulevard, Forest Hills, mother of Mrs. Iona Lichtblaugh, 40, who was fatally injured Sunday when a car operated by her husband went out of control on Route 28, Town of Shandaken, was taken to her home in Forest Hills Tuesday by Doctor's Ambulance.

Notified of the death of her daughter, Mrs. Stella Futterweit came to Kingston where she collapsed and after being treated at Kingston Hospital, was removed to her home.

The accident happened when the driver of the car was stung in the face by a bee. The station wagon went out of control and struck a tree. All five persons in the vehicle were injured. The car was operated by Leo Lichtblaugh, of Roslyn Heights, L. I.

French Hurl Insults at Viet Natives

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — About 20 angry French men and women gathered today at the remains of a French war monument wrecked by Vietnamese students and hurled insults at passing natives.

"Fight the live enemy of the present, the Viet Cong, and not the dead enemy of the past," one Frenchman shouted to Vietnamese standing near the remnants of the memorial in downtown Saigon.

Police dispersed the French without violence when a group of Vietnamese students arrived and a clash threatened.

Students wrecked the huge bronze monument to France's war dead Tuesday night in a demonstration against President Charles de Gaulle's proposal that Viet Nam be neutralized and the war against the Communist Viet Cong ended.

As police stood by with hands folded, screaming youths pulled down a 30-foot statue of two French infantrymen and towed it off. They also toppled a bronze female figure representing peace.

The students wound up their demonstration with speeches calling for a break in relations with France, and expansion of the war against the Communist North Viet Nam.

Error Caused Crash

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist air force said a navigational error by the lead plane apparently caused the crash of three military transport planes into a mountain in south Formosa.

Eighteen Nationalist Chinese airmen were killed Monday when the C-46s smashed into 2,400-foot Mt. Kuei Chung 150 miles off Taipei. They were returning in a formation of nine planes from night maneuvers.

Million Dollar Hunter Ski Lodge Open in December

The $1 million Hunter Mountain Ski Lodge, designed by Albert Hartheimer, Albany architect is scheduled for completion in December.

The profile of the lodge is keyed to the mountains that surround it and the rolling rooftop is designed to resemble the snowdrifts of the area. A 45,000-square-foot building, it is designed to house comfortably 2,000 and a crowded capacity of 3,000. It is believed to be the largest ski lodge in the east.

Inside the building will be Finnish sauna bath facilities, a cafeteria, restaurant, bar and grill, swimming pool, ski shop, snack bar, nursery and even a general store.

Reinforced concrete, steel and laminated wood and natural stone is used in the construction. The building will be air-

A 60-year old Cossack woman was injured Tuesday when her car went out of control on Route 9W about a half-mile from the Route 81 intersection at Cossack. State Police from the Leeds station reported the car struck a tree.

Mrs. Mable M. Brown was admitted to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, suffering from possible internal injuries.

Trooper A. J. Peterson of the Leeds outpost said Mr. and Mrs. Brown were traveling south on Route 9W when the accident occurred.

Negro's Cut-In Sets Off Melee at Dance

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — A Negro youth's attempt to cut-in on a white couple at a teen-age dance turned the affair into a swirling mass of battling youths of both races.

Police of five Greater Boston communities brought the melee under control within an hour Tuesday night but not before some 12 teen-agers suffered minor injuries.

No Arrests Made

One youth, 16-year-old Joseph W. Sacco of Medford, remained hospitalized today. He was transferred to Massachusetts General Hospital with a head injury after being hit with a stone.

Several hundred of the 1,200 whites at the dance were involved in the fracas, police said. No arrests were made.

Medford is a residential-industrial city of some 65,000, about five miles north of Boston. The city has a substantial Negro population.

The trouble developed, police said, when about 50 Negro youths showed up at the dance without female companions. The Negro group stood in a solid line at the edge of the dance floor but there was no disturbance until one Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple.

Immediately, fists began to fly and the dance turned into a nightmare of battling boys.

Eleven Medford policemen, on special duty at the hall, were joined by a detachment rushed from police headquarters. They maneuvered the crowd toward exits and reinforcements arrived from adjoining cities of Everett, Somerville, Malden and Cambridge.

Outside, the battling mob used rocks as weapons and shattered windows in the dance hall, cars parked in the area, and several buses. Other youths snapped off radio antennae from cars and used them as whips in the fracas.

Scuffle on Buses

The management told police they had noticed a gradual increase in recent nights of Negro youths, without girls, showing up at the dance hall. As a precaution, the 11 Medford officers were hired for special duty.

Police herded the youths onto buses which had been waiting for the end of the dance. The scuffling continued sporadically on some of the buses and windows were smashed and seat cushions slashed.

Several policemen were hit by flying rocks but none was reported injured seriously.

Assault Charges Dismissed Today, Drunk Driver Pay

Third degree assault charges involving complaints and counter-complaints, were dismissed in city court today.

Charges lodged, one against the other by Wayne Grant, 25, of the Holland Hotel, and Robert Prosser, 27, of Clinton Avenue, were dismissed as were those lodged by each other, involving Frank Rose, 28, and Richard Rowles, 29, both of 160 Clinton Avenue, following recently reported trouble at the Trailways bus terminal. Complaints were withdrawn in each case.

Patrick Morello, 28, of 129 Jansen Avenue, charged recently with driving while intoxicated, pleaded guilty, and was fined $25, plus revocation of his license.

Counselors Needed

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — A contract for $84,200 for conducting a Counseling and Guidance Training Institute was recently awarded to Pennsylvania State University under the National Defense Education Act. Arthur M. Wellington, director of the Institute, said there is a need of 25,000 school counselors in the nation right now and that a further need for 5,000 new counselors each year through 1970 is anticipated.

Stewart Airman Weds Thanks to Dixie Hospitality

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—They were young, in love and lost when they wandered into the state capitol.

But southern hospitality took over and Airman 2nd Class Marvin Harold Stivers Jr., 20, of Los Angeles and Marie Anjolette Tranquillo, 18, of Port Chester, N.Y., were married Tuesday in the old senate chamber.

Leading the contingent of well-wishers was Secretary of State Thad Eure.

The couple came south to get married because they were too young to get a license in New York. Stivers is stationed at Stewart Air Force Base near Newburgh, N.Y.

The bride received a corsage, secretaries in Eure's office made a bridal veil and the Rev. H. Arthur Phillips Jr., associate pastor of Edenton Street Methodist Church, performed the ceremony.

fly and the dance turned into a nightmare of battling boys.

Eleven Medford policemen, on special duty at the hall, were joined by a detachment rushed from police headquarters. They maneuvered the crowd toward exits and reinforcements arrived from adjoining cities of Everett, Somerville, Malden and Cambridge.

Outside, the battling mob used rocks as weapons and shattered windows in the dance hall, cars parked in the area, and several buses. Other youths snapped off radio antennae from cars and used them as whips in the fracas.

Scuffle on Buses

The management told police they had noticed a gradual increase in recent nights of Negro youths, without girls, showing up at the dance hall. As a precaution, the 11 Medford officers were hired for special duty.

Police herded the youths onto buses which had been waiting for the end of the dance. The scuffling continued sporadically on some of the buses and windows were smashed and seat cushions slashed.

Several policemen were hit by flying rocks but none was reported injured seriously.

Attorneys Beat Ruby Deadline

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby's attorneys, working around the clock, beat the legal deadline by half an hour Tuesday as they formally lodged 15 allegations of error against the trial court in which Ruby received the death penalty.

The 15 formal bills of exception represent a key effort in the fight to save the former strip-joint operator from the electric chair.

Ruby, 33, was sentenced to die for the slaying Nov. 24, 1963, of Lee Harvey Oswald, the man accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy. The trial was held in March.

Oswald was shot down before a national television audience in the Dallas City Hall as officers were transferring him to the county jail.

Defense lawyers now have 60 days in which to file the trial transcript and briefs with the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin.

Joe Tonahill of Jasper, one of the Ruby lawyers, said today the defense expects to present oral arguments to the appellate court by mid-October.

The errors alleged included little that had not been charged in April when attorneys asked for and were denied a new trial for Ruby.

Their Definite Opinion

TARBORO, N. C. (AP)—The grand jury inspected the Edgecombe County Jail and issued this report: "We inspected the county jail and found it to be in as good condition as could be expected in its present state."

High Court Order On Reinstating Ackert Is Filed

A Supreme Court order handed down July 8 by Justice T. Paul Kane at Albany nullifying the dismissal of Ernest R. Ackert as Saugerties Village registrar of vital statistics was filed at Ulster County Clerk's Office and is effective today.

A certified copy of the order which mandates the reinstatement of Ackert retroactive to the date of his dismissal on April 27 is expected to be served on Saugerties Village Attorney Robert Carnright today. The petition presented by Ackert through his attorneys, Francello and Brinnier of Saugerties, alleged that Ackert was removed without official notice nor given an opportunity to make a defense as provided in Section 60 of the Village Law. Ackert was not reappointed to the post of village clerk-treasurer at the April organizational meeting of the board, and at that time no reason for the board's action was announced. At the April 27 meeting of the board, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar.

The registrar's position pays $100 annually. Ackert's term expires March 30, 1965.

The Village of Saugerties has 30 days in which to file an appeal of the order.

An interesting display of six original paintings by Lt. Benjamin Rosen and his wife, Marcella Rosen, are currently on display at Saugerties Savings Bank, 87 Market Street.

One of these, depicting a scene in Korea, won for Lt. Rosen first prize in the United Nations Merchant Marine Art Show in 1953. Newcomers to Saugerties, the Rosens live at 109 Ulster Avenue. Mrs. Rosen was born and educated in Switzerland. In addition to her talent for painting, she devotes much time to writing poetry, and the designing of her own clothes and hats.

U. S. Citizenship Saves Pole From Charges

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A former Polish citizen, who was accused of 14 crimes—including murder—by the Polish government three years ago, has become a U.S. citizen.

Joseph Gazdowicz, 38, who termed the Polish government charges "trumped up" and based on "political motives" was sworn in Tuesday as an American citizen.

Judge Harold P. Burke of federal court had denied the Polish government's request for extradition and Gazdowicz' attorney said American citizenship would prevent any further Polish government action.

Gazdowicz, a power saw operator in a basket factory, and his wife have two children.

13 Are Indicted As PO Burglars, Biggest Ring Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury has indicted 13 men described by federal prosecutors as "the largest gang of burglars to plague the Post Office Department since its founding" in 1794.

The office of U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey in Brooklyn gave that description of the men, charged with looting seven New Jersey post offices.

The amount of loot named in Tuesday's indictment was $680,000 but Hoey's office said the total might run to more than $1 million in stamps and money orders.

Rescue Underway For Nine Found Alive in Mine

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Rescue workers punched an entrance today into an underground tunnel where five miners are believed trapped by a cave-in. Other men worked to open a rescue shaft to nine trapped men found alive more than 200 feet below the surface.

The rescuers made contact through an air tube with the nine men Tuesday night, 36 hours after the cave-in in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France. The miners said three of their five missing companions were caught by falling rock and may have perished. They said there was no trace of the other two.

Torrential rains hampered the rescue work Tuesday, but the sky was blue today. The limestone quarry lies beneath Mt. Rivel near the Swiss border.

The hole was opened by bulldozers this morning to permit rescue teams to enter the entrance tunnel where the cave-in occurred Monday and clear away debris by hand. It was believed that the five missing men were in this gallery.

Other rescue teams were digging a 3-foot vertical shaft through the 211-foot layer of rock above the chamber where the nine known survivors were. Drillers sank a small pipe into the underground gallery Tuesday night and exchanged signals with the miners. Then they lowered a microphone to the men by pushing through a larger pipe.

Down went food, warm clothing, hot drinks, flashlights and cigarettes. Wives and daughters spoke to the trapped men.

Resistance Ends, House Is Toppled

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP)—Wayne Hamilton's last ditch resistance to eviction under an order condemning his 80-year-old one-story frame house on the $157-million Southwest Expressway route, ended Tuesday and the house was tumbled down.

Hamilton, 31, had threatened to defend the place with a 12-gauge shotgun. He sat in an overstuffed chair in his living room when sheriff's policemen got in by kicking out a front door panel.

The shotgun was lying unloaded across his knees when Chief Deputy Harry M. Magers told him, "I hate to do this. Will you cooperate?"

Hamilton replied he would not and Magers and two other deputies carried him outdoors. Hamilton's wife, Jeanette, 30, and their three daughters, aged 6 to 9, followed. A moment later, a bulldozer toppled the house, furnishings and all.

Hamilton said he paid $16,500 for the place six years ago. The state awarded him $13,800. Hamilton said it was worth between $25,000 and $27,000.

Marriage Rates Jump

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The cost of getting married in Louisiana rose $1.50 at noon today.

A bill signed into law by Gov. John J. McKeithen Tuesday boosted the cost of a marriage license from $3.50 to $5. The increase was necessary because of the cost of handling paper work.

Bible School in Two Churches, Successful

Vacation Bible schools in Blue Mountain and Katsbaan Reformed Churches was reported very successful, according to the Rev. August Pfau Jr., pastor.

At both schools there was a worship service each day, led by the pupils. This was followed by Bible study, recreation and handwork. Blue Mountain had an enrollment of 93 and Katsbaan had 26 on roll. Both schools made donations of their daily offerings to the Young People's Benevolent Fund of the Reformed Church and both made donations of special offerings to the Mid-Hudson Migrant Committee.

High Court Order On Reinstating Ackert Is Filed

A Supreme Court order handed down July 8 by Justice T. Paul Kane at Albany nullifying the dismissal of Ernest R. Ackert as Saugerties Village registrar of vital statistics was filed at Ulster County Clerk's Office and is effective today.

A certified copy of the order which mandates the reinstatement of Ackert retroactive to the date of his dismissal on April 27 is expected to be served on Saugerties Village Attorney Robert Carnright today. The petition presented by Ackert through his attorneys, Francello and Brinner of Saugerties, alleged that Ackert was removed without official notice nor given an opportunity to make a defense as provided in Section 60 of the Village Law.

Ackert was not reappointed to the post of village clerk-treasurer at the April organizational meeting of the board, and at that time no reason for the board's action was announced. At the April 27 meeting of the board, Ackert was dismissed from his post as registrar.

The registrar's position pays $100 annually. Ackert's term expires March 30, 1965.

The Village of Saugerties has 30 days in which to file an appeal of the order.

Saugerties Bank Has Display of 6 Original Oils

An interesting display of six original paintings by Lt. Benjamin Rosen and his wife, Marcella Rosen, are currently on display at Saugerties Savings Bank, 87 Market Street.

One of these, depicting a scene in Korea, won for Lt. Rosen first prize in the United Nations Merchant Marine Art Show in 1953. Newcomers to Saugerties, the Rosens live at 109 Ulster Avenue. The lieutenant retired recently as chief purser of the United States Merchant Marine, in which he had served since 1924. He is also a veteran of the United States Marine Corps.

His paintings have been exhibited at the Hall of Art in New York City, the 1939-40 New York World's Fair, and the Brooklyn Museum of Art. He has had one-man shows in the New York Public Library, and also the Eastern Parkway Branch of the Brooklyn Public Library.

Mrs. Rosen was born and educated in Switzerland. In addition to her talent for painting, she devotes much time to writing poetry, and the designing of her own clothes and hats.

The showing in the lobby of the bank will continue for another two weeks.

U. S. Citizenship Saves Pole From Charges

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A former Polish citizen, who was accused of 14 crimes—including murder—by the Polish government three years ago, has become a U.S. citizen.

Joseph Gazdowicz, 38, who termed the Polish government charges "trumped up" and based on "political motives" was sworn in Tuesday as an American citizen.

Judge Harold P. Burke of federal court had denied the Polish government's request for extradition and Gazdowicz' attorney said American citizenship would prevent any further Polish government action.

Gazdowicz, a power saw operator in a basket factory, and his wife have two children.

13 Are Indicted As PO Burglars, Biggest Ring Ever

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury has indicted 13 men described by federal prosecutors as "the largest gang of burglars to plague the Post Office Department since its founding" in 1794.

The office of U.S. Atty. Joseph P. Hoey in Brooklyn gave that description of the men, charged with looting seven New Jersey post offices.

The amount of loot named in Tuesday's indictment was $680,000 but Hoey's office said the total might run to more than $1 million in stamps and money orders.

Rescue Underway For Nine Found Alive in Mine

CHAMPAIGN, France (AP)—Rescue workers punched an entrance today into an underground tunnel where five miners are believed trapped by a cave-in. Other men worked to open a rescue shaft to nine trapped men found alive more than 200 feet below the surface.

The rescuers made contact through an air tube with the nine men Tuesday night, 36 hours after the cave-in in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France. The miners said three of their five missing companions were caught by falling rock and may have perished. They said there was no trace of the other two.

Torrential rains hampered the rescue work Tuesday, but the sky was blue today. The limestone quarry lies beneath Mt. Rivel near the Swiss border.

The hole was opened by bulldozers this morning to permit rescue teams to enter the entrance tunnel where the cave-in occurred Monday and clear away debris by hand. It was believed that the five missing men were in this gallery.

Other rescue teams were digging a 3-foot vertical shaft through the 211-foot layer of rock above the chamber where the nine known survivors were. Drillers sank a small pipe into the underground gallery Tuesday night and exchanged signals with the miners. Then they lowered a microphone to the men by pushing through a larger pipe.

Down went food, warm clothing, hot drinks, flashlights and cigarettes. Wives and daughters spoke to the trapped men.

BeautyQueens Vie Tonight for Title Of Miss U.S.A. 1964

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Beauty queens of 15 states compete tonight for the Miss U.S.A. title and a chance to be Miss Universe of 1964.

Among them is Dorothy Johnson of Pocatello, Idaho, the first Negro to reach final stages of a major U.S. beauty pageant.

Other semifinalists are:

Resistance Ends, House Is Topped

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP)—Wayne Hamilton's last ditch resistance to eviction under an order condemning his 80-year-old one-story frame house on the $157-million Southwest Expressway route, ended Tuesday and the house was tumbled down.

Hamilton, 31, had threatened to defend the place with a 12-gauge shotgun. He sat in an overstuffed chair in his living room when sheriff's policemen got in by kicking out a front door panel.

The shotgun was lying unloaded across his knees when Chief Deputy Harry M. Magers told him, "I hate to do this. Will you cooperate?"

Hamilton replied he would not and Magers and two other deputies carried him outdoors. Hamilton's wife, Jeanette, 30, and their three daughters, aged 6 to 9, followed. A moment later, a bulldozer toppled the house, furnishings and all.

Hamilton said he paid $16,500 for the place six years ago. The state awarded him $13,800. Hamilton said it was worth between $25,000 and $27,000.

Marriage Rates Jump

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The cost of getting married in Louisiana rose $1.50 at noon today.

A bill signed into law by Gov. John J. McKeithen Tuesday boosted the cost of a marriage license from $3.50 to $5. The increase was necessary because of the cost of handling paper work.

Mt. Marion-Ruby Vols Called Again To Ruby Inn Fire

Mt. Marion-Ruby firemen were called twice Tuesday to the scene of Elmer's Inn in Ruby which was destroyed by fire in the early morning hours.

Firemen were alerted at 2:11 and 8:39 p. m. when the smoldering embers flared up from the ruins.

Cause of the fire has still not been determined, according to Mrs. Elmer G. Hung. The loss was estimated at $60,000, and apparently started in the kitchen of the newly completed section of the building.

When firemen arrived the flames had gained considerable headway and were shooting through the roof. Lack of adequate water supply prevented the firemen from Mt. Marion-Ruby, Sawkill, and Glasco from coping with the fire.

Mrs. Hung said the Inn had been closed Monday and when business closed Sunday night all appliances, including the deep-fat fryer had been turned off. Cause of the fire as yet was undetermined, she said. The Inn will be rebuilt.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter has been released from a hospital but he'll have to spend a week at his Houston home before going back to work at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Officials at the space center said they didn't know exactly what Carpenter would do when he returns to work.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers of Haiti says his government deserves vast economic aid from the United States because it has consistently supported U.S. foreign policy.

About $100 million over a 10-year period would do nicely, Chalmers told a news conference.

The United States cut off aid to Haiti two years ago because of the repressive dictatorship of President Francois Duvalier. Until then, Haiti had been getting about $12.5 million a year from the United States.

Appeal Hits Snag

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A formal appeal by State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno hit a snag Tuesday in the latest development in the lengthy legal battle over who won the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Abraham A. Freedman, chief counsel for Musmanno, appeared at the prothonotary's office to file an appeal to Monday's State Supreme Court decision that ruled out some 6,000 wrong line votes cast in the April 28 primary and virtually assured the victory for Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs.

But an employee in the prothonotary's office refused to accept Freedman's petition, saying it was premature.

Fire on the site of a former sawmill about a quarter mile off the High Falls Road, Saxton, Tuesday night called out Saxton firemen under Fire Chief John Lasher Jr., the Katsbaan-Asbury firemen and Conservation Department men.

Firemen fought the blaze throughout the night and a watch was being kept on it today by firemen and Conservation Department men.

The fire was first spotted by Ranger John Baldwin from atop the overlook fire tower. He notified Chief Lasher who went to the scene and also summoned Saxton firemen and assistance from Katsbaan-Asbury.

Fire apparently started in the debris at the site of the sawmill, and sawdust and old slashwood was still burning today. Before the fire was brought under control following the alarm at 6:15 p. m. Tuesday, an area in excess of 20 acres of brushland and woodland was burned.

Forest Ranger Aaron VanDeBogart went to the scene to direct operations. Chief Lasher said the fire was on lands owned by Charles DuVernoy on the easterly side of the High Falls-Saxton Road in the Town of Saugerties.

Firemen worked throughout the night keeping the fire under control. Due to the difficult area in which the fire was located two tank trucks encountered trouble in getting to the scene.

90 Attend 3rd Tri-Mount Week

Some 90 Scouts representing all three districts of the Rip Van Winkle Council attended Camp Tri-Mount during the third week of the summer camp season.

The Honor Patrol for the third week was the Flintstone Patrol. Members of the Honor Patrol include: Richard Farnsworth, Troop 171; Glenn Sheily, 171; David Goble, Troop 32; John Karhkeek, Troop 101; Kurt Ellis, 101. The inspection winners were the Cayugas, a provisional campsite, made up of boys from many troops. The Cayuga campsite also won the softball championship. The Aqua Maneuvers were won by the Mohawk campsite, also a provisional site. A total of 42 merit badges were awarded, along with rank advancements, at the Saturday night campfire. Many parents and friends enjoyed hearing Harry Slobodian, ASM of Jamboree Troop No. 59, tell of his exciting experiences at the National Jamboree.

Friday and Saturday were exciting days at Tri-Mount. Michael Atkins, Troop 31 of Centerville and Henry Weiss, Troop 44, Catskill, were inducted into the Order of the Arrow by a camp staff team. Twenty-three adventure-seeking Scouts took an 11-mile overnight hike to the base of Hunter Mountain, which they ascended on the Hunter Ski-Bowl chair lift "Sky Ride." From the summit, they proceeded to the John Robb lean-to, and spent the night under the stars. After enjoying breakfast prepared on the trail, they continued to the Hunter Fire Tower, and arrived back in camp at 1:30 p. m. This rugged mountain hike will be incorporated into each week's program for older, more experienced Scouts who wish to take it.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP) — Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey has delayed — at least temporarily — a "freedom of information" bill designed to make it easier for newsmen to challenge government agencies which refuse to give out information.

Humphrey entered a motion for reconsideration of the measure, shortly after the Senate passed it Tuesday by voice vote. The Minnesota Democrat said several senators had told him there should be some discussion on the measure.

Similar legislation has been pending before the House Judiciary Committee for more than a year.

Jointly sponsored by Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the legislation would permit federal court suits to challenge the withholding of information and would put the burden of proof on the agencies to defend their refusal to give out information.

The bill would also require an agency's public information policies to be published and made available to the public.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authority for the Treasury to mint 45 million new silver dollars is included in an appropriations bill which received final congressional approval Tuesday.

The measure provides $6,233,273,000 to operate the Treasury and Post Office departments, the executive office of the President and some independent agencies.

It was passed after House conferees agreed to a Senate amendment sponsored by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, which provides $600,000 to mint the new cartwheels at the Denver mint.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office said Tuesday that bad administration of the Army's allotment system is costing the government about $2 million a year in erroneous payments.

At least $340,000 of this amount is never recovered from the servicemen who get the erroneous payments, the congressional agency added.

The most common error, it reported, is the failure to make proper deductions for U.S. savings bonds, government life insurance and support of dependents on allotment requests.

The GAO said mistakes occur primarily because Army personnel and finance workers are not properly trained, do not remain on the job long enough to learn it properly, have to perform other military duties and "do not exercise the proper degree of care in their work."

Makes Restitution

Columbia County sheriff's office men picked up Frances J. Hillis, 59, of 6 Shore Drive, Elizaville, Tuesday and turned her over to Ulster County Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth and Mrs. Florence Brinkman, matron at the Ulster County Jail. It was alleged last February Mrs. Hillis passed a fraudulent check at the Hi-Lo Department store in Port Ewen. Taken before Justice of the Peace Alan Dargie of Town of Esopus she entered a plea of guilty to the larceny charge and made restitution in the sum of $6.65.

Mt. Marion-Ruby Vols Called Again To Ruby Inn Fire

Mt. Marion-Ruby firemen were called twice Tuesday to the scene of Elmer's Inn in Ruby which was destroyed by fire in the early morning hours.

Firemen were alerted at 2:11 and 8:39 p. m. when the smoldering embers flared up from the ruins.

Cause of the fire has still not been determined, according to Mrs. Elmer G. Hung. The loss was estimated at $60,000, and apparently started in the kitchen of the newly completed section of the building.

When firemen arrived the flames had gained considerable headway and were shooting through the roof. Lack of adequate water supply prevented the firemen from Mt. Marion-Ruby, Sawkill, and Glasco from coping with the fire.

Mrs. Hung said the Inn had been closed Monday and when business closed Sunday night all appliances, including the deep-fat fryer had been turned off. Cause of the fire as yet was undetermined, she said. The Inn will be rebuilt.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter has been released from a hospital but he'll have to spend a week at his Houston home before going back to work at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Officials at the space center said they didn't know exactly what Carpenter would do when he returns to work.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers of Haiti says his government deserves vast economic aid from the United States because it has consistently supported U.S. foreign policy.

About $100 million over a 10-year period would do nicely, Chalmers told a news conference.

The United States cut off aid to Haiti two years ago because of the repressive dictatorship of President Francois Duvalier. Until then, Haiti had been getting about $12.5 million a year from the United States.

Appeal Hits Snag

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A formal appeal by State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno hit a snag Tuesday in the latest development in the lengthy legal battle over who won the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate.

Abraham A. Freedman, chief counsel for Musmanno, appeared at the prothonotary's office to file an appeal to Monday's State Supreme Court decision that ruled out some 6,000 wrong line votes cast in the April 28 primary and virtually assured the victory for Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs.

But an employee in the prothonotary's office refused to accept Freedman's petition, saying it was premature.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State delegates to the Democratic national convention indicate preference for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy or New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner as the party's vice presidential nominee.

But they believe Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota will be President Johnson's running mate in the November election. These conclusions are drawn from a survey of delegate sentiments by The Associated Press in which 75 of the 228 delegates to the convention took part.

Other Preferences
Also winning preference among the delegates were Sen. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut, Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, Sen. Edward Kennedy, Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver, and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

Among those with second-choice support were Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, Paul O'Dwyer, a New York City councilman-at-large who is seeking the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, and Chief Justice Earl Warren, who is a former Republican governor of California.

The Democrats will hold their convention in Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 24-28. The New York delegation includes 130 delegates with a full vote each and 98 delegates with a half-vote each.

Slim RFK Edge
In the preference portion of the survey, Robert Kennedy, brother of the late President, received a total of 19 delegate votes.

Wagner received 18½ delegate votes. Humphrey received 14½ delegate votes. The nearest competitor to the top three was Ribicoff with 1½ delegate votes.

Morris Schneider, a delegate-at-large from Rockville Centre, said he thought either Humphrey or Robert Kennedy "would be a wonderful choice for the people."

"Both are men of strong conviction and principle," he said, "and have taken strong positions."

Mormon Pageant Attracts 25,000

PALMYRA, N.Y. (AP) — A moonlit sky, warm weather and an estimated crowd of 25,000 marked the opening night of the 27th annual Hill Cumorah Pageant.

The 1½-hour pageant, with a cast of 400, opened Tuesday night on Hill Cumorah, which is considered the "cradle" of the Mormon religion. The pageant will continue with nightly performances through Saturday.

Elder Richard L. Evans of Salt Lake City, Utah, commentator for the pageant, said the Hill Cumorah, where the Mormon religion was founded 150 years ago, "was sacred to more than 2 million Mormons around the globe."

The pageant, highlighting scenes from the "Book of Mormon" unfolded across the hillside under bright spotlights with music in the background. The cast members include 366 from the Salt Lake City area who traveled to the pageant site in chartered buses. The remainder of the performers are residents of this area.

The crowd, although not charged for parking or seating, was not allowed to applaud, smoke or take flash photographs of the hillside spectacle.

Never Pull Dog's Ears, Goldwater Hears From LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says the atmosphere at his White House meeting with President Johnson was "very good."

"We're good friends," Goldwater told newsmen Tuesday. "We're old political friends."

The two met Friday to discuss civil rights tensions during the presidential campaign. Did they discuss anything else? "Yes," said the Republican presidential nominee. "He warned me never to pull my dog's ears."

In the western Canadian Arctic the temperature sometimes falls to 50 degrees below zero.

Kingston Lions Hear About Zip System From Postmaster

The Post Office Department's ZIP Code was defined today by Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk as an economy measure to cope with the nation's mounting mail volume without an "unmanageable" increase in its workroom personnel.

At a meeting of the Kingston Lions Club the postmaster labeled the program as the only economical answer to what Postmaster General John A. Gronouski describes as a "mail explosion" of the 1960's and 70's.

Sees Economy

"Economy is the watchword of this administration," he said. "President Lyndon Johnson has directed us to provide the best possible service at the least possible cost. Now, and in the future, ZIP Code will help us to contain the cost of this mail explosion and meet President Johnson's objectives."

ZIP Code already has wide acceptance. Postmaster Newkirk said, but its continued progress will depend on the voluntary cooperation of the mailing public. "If we didn't have ZIP code," he said, "and if we didn't have wholehearted public support for the program, in a few years the avalanche of mail burdening our post office would make the blizzard of '88 seem like a gentle snow flurry."

"The only alternative to ZIP Code would be an enormous increase in postal personnel, costly expansion of postal space, burgeoning postal rates and a postal gap between income and expenditure wider than the Grand Canyon."

Processes Large Share

Newkirk pointed out that the Kingston Post Office processes a goodly share of the 70 billion pieces of mail generated nationally. The volume, he said, rises at the rate of 2½ billion pieces a year and by 1970 will total 90 billion.

Zip Code is designed to solve the problem of rising volume by cutting down on the number of times the mail is handled. By "leap frogging" mail from sectional center to sectional center, ZIP Code reduces the possibility of error, saves money and speeds delivery, Newkirk said.

The postmaster mentioned a number of local firms now pre-sorting their mail according to ZIP Code. The individual letter writer, he added, also gains from this cooperation, since the pre-sorting of large volumes of mail allows more time in the post office for handling personal mail manually by ZIP Code.

"But ZIP Code is more than just a vastly improved manual sorting method," he said. "It is a method that will ultimately allow us to automate our sorting processes and speed the mail even more."

Scanner to Be Used

"How? By use of the automatic ZIP Code scanner and sorter that you've been hearing so much about. When it becomes operational, ZIP Code will be fully effective—and will take its place as one of the most revolutionary programs in the history of our postal service."

The optical scanner, he said, is presently designed to read only typewritten numbers but hopefully in the not too distant future it will become sophisticated enough to read written digits as well as typewritten figures and sort them at the rate of 17,000 an hour.

Mail is therefore speeded at the source of origin and destination as well as by-passing intermediate stops between sectional centers, he explained. And since it is pre-sorted, it is ready for earlier departure by plane, train or truck.

The community of Kingston, the postmaster reported, is co-operating with the program to the extent of 25 per cent. He urged his audience to help push that percentage a lot higher, so that Kingston might "lead the nation in a program that will enable use to live with the postal needs of tomorrow."

Body Is Recovered

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Scuba divers Tuesday recovered the body of Joseph Brand, 42, of Saranac Lake, from the waters of nearby Kiyass Lake. Brand was drowned last Saturday when he was thrown from a small boat that had gone out of control.

Dear Abby . . .
Face The Facts!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is planning her wedding. She has asked her 18-year-old cousin to be a bridesmaid. The problem is that this cousin has a 12-year-old sister who thinks she should be a bridesmaid, or have some special part in the wedding, so she can be in the wedding party, too. She has even begged to be a flower girl (she is five feet seven!) but my daughter doesn't want her. We aren't having any junior bridesmaids, so that's out. This little snip has always been jealous of her older sister and is extremely hard to handle. Her mother (my sister) has me on the telephone twenty times a day telling me that we MUST fit this child into the wedding party as she is becoming unmanageable. What do you suggest?

BRIDE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I suggest that you tell your sister that the brides decides who shall be in the wedding party. The 12-year-old girl needs to learn a very important lesson in life. "We can't always have what we want." Now would be as good a time as any to teach her.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a bit of information which doesn't amount to a "damn," but perhaps you can use it. Your correspondent who claimed that the expression, "Don't give a dam" was not improper because a "dam" was a small Indian coin, may have been right. But the origin of the "dam" used in that sense came from the old-time traveling "tinker" or fixit man. When mending pots and pans, he used a small ridge of clay around the edge of the hole of the vessel to prevent the solder from running off the area for which it was intended. The little clay ridge was called a "tinker's dam." After the hole had been mended it had no further use. Hence the phrase. Best regards,
J. F. WEADOCK

DEAR ABBY: I had company last Sunday. Mrs. A. stopped by with her four-year-old son. A few minutes later Mrs. B. came with her six-year-old daughter. The children played together while we ladies talked. Mrs. A. casually said, "I hope Jackie isn't coming down with measles. He was exposed to them in our neighborhood and he does look rather feverish." Mrs. B. shot out of her chair like an electric current went through it, and then she shouted angrily at Mrs. A., "A fine time to tell me! My Janie just got over an ear infection and if she catches measles it could settle in her ear!" Then she grabbed her daughter by the arm and flew out the door. Mrs. A., and her little boy, left shortly afterwards with tears in her eyes. That evening Mrs. A.'s husband called and said I should ask Mrs. B. to phone his wife and apologize for hurting her feelings. Well, I called Mrs. B. and gave her the message, and she said Mrs. A. owed HER an apology for exposing her child to measles. Who do you think owes whom an apology?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Both edgy mothers should apologize to each other for behaving even more childishly than their children.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOUNG AND IN TROUBLE: I cannot help you unless you tell me where to send the information. PLEASE confide in your parents at once. I promise you they will understand and help you in spite of what you have done.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

War Crimes Trials Bring Back Tortured Child Memories

By LOYAL GOULD

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A skinny boy stood on his tip toes, swaying slightly back and forth. He strained every muscle in an attempt to touch a bar hanging 5 feet 5 inches above the ground.

He couldn't make it and broke into sobs.

Would Live Longer

That bar meant the difference between life and death. Had he touched it, he would have lived a little longer as a slave laborer in one of the Nazis' 250 concentration camps.

This is one of the memories of tortured childhood revived in this summer's war crimes trials in West Germany.

Witnesses' descriptions of suffering and courage often cause judges and courtroom spectators to weep.

Witnesses have related that nearly all Jewish and Slavic children who arrived at the camps were killed immediately by gassing, shooting, beating, hanging or injections of carbolic acid administered into their heart muscles. They have testified that babies born to women inmates were tossed alive into ovens or into open fires so as to spare the costs of more-expensive methods of murder.

Staged Mock Courts

They have described how the SS Elite Guard staged mock courts to terrify older children before executing them. They have told of medical "experiments" performed without anesthetics on youngsters by SS physicians and how some children fought their tormentors with a ferocity spawned by desperation.

By 1941—when the Nazi death factories were running in high gear—the SS was exterminating all children under 15 who arrived. Then Heinrich Himmler discovered that his blanket rule tended to slow the flow of slave laborers to industrial plants built by leading German firms in or near the camps.

He modified his order, sparing children too tall to pass under the 5-foot-5 bar. He thought children that tall were strong enough to work on slave labor projects where adult male inmates had an average life expectancy of three months.

Witnesses have related how children—knowing the gas chambers awaited them if they failed the size test—stood on tip toes in vain attempts to show how big they were.

Flexed Muscles

When they failed they often ran among their examiners—assembled SS men—flexing their arms muscles and shouting they were strong enough to perform any labor demanded of them. Their pleas to live were almost invariably rejected.

Sometimes they were spared, only to be forced to kill their own parents in a manner designed to "amuse" the SS—such as holding the head of a bound and gagged father in a water trough until he drowned, or pulling the trigger of a gun against a mother's forehead.

Children who refused were tossed with their parents alive into the camps' crematorium ovens or onto open, gasoline-fed fires burning to ashes the gas chambers' victims.

Dear Abby . . .

Face The Facts!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is planning her wedding. She has asked her 18-year-old cousin to be a bridesmaid. The problem is that this cousin has a 12-year-old sister who thinks she should be a bridesmaid, so that's out. This little snip has always been jealous of her older sister and is extremely hard to handle. Her mother (my sister) has me on the telephone twenty times a day telling me that we MUST fit this child into the wedding party as she is becoming unmanageable. What do you suggest?

BRIDE'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I suggest that you tell your sister that the brides decides who shall be in the wedding party. The 12-year-old girl needs to learn a very important lesson in life. "We can't always have what we want." Now would be as good a time as any to teach her.

DEAR ABBY: Here's a bit of information which doesn't amount to a "damn," but perhaps you can use it. Your correspondent who claimed that the expression, "Don't give a damn" was not improper because a "dam" was a small Indian coin, may have been right. But the origin of the "dam" used in that sense came from the old-time traveling "tinker" or fixit man. When mending pots and pans, he used a small ridge of clay around the edge of the hole of the vessel to prevent the solder from running off the area for which it was intended. The little clay ridge was called a "tinker's dam." After the hole had been mended it had no further use. Hence the phrase. Best regards, J. F. WEADOCK

DEAR ABBY: I had company last Sunday. Mrs. A. stopped by with her four-year-old son. A few minutes later Mrs. B. came with her six-year-old daughter. The children played together while we ladies talked. Mrs. A. casually said, "I hope Jackie isn't coming down with measles. He was exposed to them in our neighborhood and he does look rather feverish." Mrs. B. shot out of her chair like an electric current went through it, and then she shouted angrily at Mrs. A. "A fine time to tell me! My Janie just got over an ear infection and if she catches measles it could settle in her ear!" Then she grabbed her daughter by the arm and flew out the door. Mrs. A. and her little boy, left shortly afterwards with tears in her eyes. That evening Mrs. A.'s husband called and said I should ask Mrs. B. to phone his wife and apologize for hurting her feelings. Well, I called Mrs. B. and gave her the message, and she said Mrs. A. owed HER an apology for exposing her child to measles. Who do you think owes whom an apology?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Both edgy mothers should apologize to each other for behaving even more childishly than their children.

CONFIDENTIAL TO YOUNG AND IN TROUBLE: I cannot help you unless you tell me where to send the information. PLEASE confide in your parents at once. I promise you they will understand and help you in spite of what you have done.

Problems? Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069, for Abby's booklet, "HOW TO WRITE LETTERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS."

OHIO'S LBJ—A lanky man strides the Cleveland streets in a Texas topper and the people stop and stare. More than a few have asked: "Aren't you President Johnson?" Anthony Stanisha, 58, smiles and says, "No." But he looks a lot like LBJ.

The Right Way

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Boys and girls from 8 to 16 are learning the proper way to handle a gun at a free 11-week course sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and taught by safety experts. Youths completing the course will be given a certificate from the State Dept. of Conservation and honored at a Jaycee dinner featuring wild game.

War Crimes Trials Bring Back Tortured Child Memories

By LOYAL GOULD

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — A skinny boy stood on his tip toes, swaying slightly back and forth. He strained every muscle in an attempt to touch a bar hanging 5 feet 5 inches above the ground.

He couldn't make it and broke into sobs.

Would Live Longer

That bar meant the difference between life and death. Had he touched it, he would have lived a little longer as a slave laborer in one of the Nazis' 250 concentration camps.

This is one of the memories of tortured childhood revived in this summer's war crimes trials in West Germany.

Witnesses' descriptions of suffering and courage often cause judges and courtroom spectators to weep.

Witnesses have related that nearly all Jewish and Slavic children who arrived at the camps were killed immediately by gassing, shooting, beating, hanging or injections of carbolic acid administered into their heart muscles. They have testified that babies born to women inmates were tossed alive into ovens or into open fires so as to spare the costs of more-expensive methods of murder.

Staged Mock Courts

They have described how the SS Elite Guard staged mock courts to terrify older children before executing them. They have told of medical "experiments" performed without anesthetics on youngsters by SS physicians and how some children fought their tormentors with a ferocity spawned by desperation.

By 1941—when the Nazi death factories were running in high gear—the SS was exterminating all children under 15 who arrived. Then Heinrich Himmler discovered that his blanket rule tended to slow the flow of slave laborers to industrial plants built by leading German firms in or near the camps.

He modified his order, sparing children too tall to pass under the 5-foot-5 bar. He thought children that tall were strong enough to work on slave labor projects where adult male inmates had an average life expectancy of three months.

Witnesses have related how children—knowing the gas chambers awaited them if they failed the size test—stood on tip toes in vain attempts to show how big they were.

Flexed Muscles

When they failed they often ran among their examiners—assembled SS men—flexing their arms muscles and shouting they were strong enough to perform any labor demanded of them. Their pleas to live were almost invariably rejected.

Sometimes they were spared, only to be forced to kill their own parents in a manner designed to "amuse" the SS—such as holding the head of a bound and gagged father in a water trough until he drowned, or pulling the trigger of a gun against a mother's forehead.

Children who refused were tossed with their parents alive into the camps' crematorium ovens or onto open, gasoline-fed fires burning to ashes the gas chambers' victims.

India's Thousands Prey to Driving Rains of Monsoon

By DAN COGGIN
NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The rain beats harder and faster. Weeds bend under the pelting. Puddles form. Rivulets ooze into crude shelters where families huddle against the down-pour.

All across the vast subcontinent the hard, driving rains of the monsoon have unleashed their fury. And India's ragged masses, always stalked by hunger, disease and poverty, are prey to the rampaging elements.

To four out of five of India's 465 million people, existing hand-to-mouth in remote villages of festering slums, the monsoon means two to four months of mud, mildew and massive misery.

Like Quagmire

Downpours day after day turn much of the world's second most populous nation into a nightmarish quagmire.

The fact of hot, dry India is transformed. Quiet rivers and streams churn out of their banks. Arid plains bristling with wheat are flooded. Hundreds of villages, drought-stricken before the rains, are swept by muddy water. Dusty roads winding through parched wastelands are suddenly awash. Scorched plots where peasants scratch out a living become marshy graves of ruined crops. Mud seems to engulf the land.

Summer rains are vital for food production in India, still far from agricultural self-sufficiency. But when the monsoon is severe, as it was in June and most of July, the always troublesome problem of feeding India's hungry millions become critical.

One of Worst

The Indian government has smothered the flames of crisis this summer through huge wheat and rice purchases from the United States, Pakistan and Australia.

The monsoon can be a blessing to India, with gentle rains that paint the land green, help the crops and relieve the heat. But this summer's monsoon will be remembered as one that did more harm and caused more suffering than anything else.

License-Plate Backfire

CHICAGO (AP)—Fabricating a set of license plates because "the show must go on" put Carl Griggs, 45, a musician, in a jail cell.

Griggs was sized in his automobile in the parking lot at O'Hare International Airport. He was polishing a saxophone, one of four he had in his car.

The 1963 license plates on Griggs' 1961 automobile had been painted on orchid purple, similar to Illinois' 1964 plates. The "Land of Lincoln" legend had been cut off the bottom of the plate and affixed to the top with tape to conform to the new plates.

"I had a job Saturday night, the first one in quite a few months," Griggs said. "I needed the car. I didn't have any 1964 plates, so I did the next best thing — I made my own."

Not Type-Cast, Wilder Keeps His Word to Walston

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fame and popular affection, however much desired by an actor, are not always unmixed blessings.

Ray Walston, the Actors Studio alumnus and Broadway stage veteran who plays the title role in CBS' "My Favorite Martian," spent all of last season emotionally torn between the joy of starring in a hit series and stewing because he was convinced he was type-cast, the actor's worst bugaboo.

This fear now has been banished. Two days after production of the CBS comedy-fantasy shut down for the season, Walston was called to replace Peter Sellers, felled by a heart attack, in Billy Wilder's film comedy, "Kiss Me, Stupid."

"The television series had nothing to do with it," Walston explained. "I had a small role in 'The Apartment,' and Wilder told me then that some day he'd have a good part for me. He remembered."

Walston works at his acting as conscientiously as a young athlete determined to stay in peak form. A punching bag and barbells are handy outside his dressing room. He rides a bicycle around the studio and, at home, often pedals two miles up a steep hill.

Television repertory, started last season with NBC's "Richard Boone Show" anthology series, will be attempted again next season on CBS' weekly review series, "The Entertainers."

Carol Burnett, Bob Newhart and Caterina Valente will be the show toppers, but the company will include a number of young newcomers.

NBC is increasing the number of shows it will present in color next season, including, among others, "That Was the Week That Was."

Rowan and Martin, the comedy team, are candidates for a late-evening ABC show this fall. A couple of seasons back Martin played Lucille Ball's bachelor neighbor for awhile.

Man Asks $500,000, Cites Illegally Held 24 Years

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A 55-year-old man who claims he was held illegally behind bars for more than 24 years is suing the state for $500,000.

Attorneys for Stephen Dennison, whose address is listed as Schuylerville, Saratoga County, said Tuesday they hoped to bring the case to trial early next year.

His lawyers now are involved in motions before the Court of Claims to obtain records kept by state institutions at which Dennison had been an inmate or a patient.

Dennison was released from the Dannemora State Hospital in December 1960 on an order from Justice Robert G. Main of State Supreme Court. He had been imprisoned since August 1926, and he contends he was held illegally for 24 years and three months after expiration of his 10-year term.

Dennison pleaded guilty in October 1925 to breaking into a store and stealing about $3 worth of candy. The charge was third-degree burglary.

He was given a suspended sentence on condition he report regularly to a minister in his home town of Salem, Washington County.

When he failed to do so, the Washington County Court sent him to Elmira Reformatory in August, 1926. The following year he was transferred to the State Institution for Male Delinquent at Dannemora State Hospital.

According to papers filed by his attorneys, Dennison's term of imprisonment expired in September 1936. At that time, the claim says, a court granted a request from the superintendent of the hospital for an order to retain Dennison "as a mental defective."

The papers said Dennison had no opportunity to consult a lawyer or "answer assertions as to his sanity."

It added that Dennison "has undergone and will undergo medical care and treatment" as a result of his imprisonment.

The North-South top went to a player who managed to make four diamonds.

He won the first spade with his ace and promptly ran off six trump tricks. His first discard from dummy was the three of clubs, second the nine of spades and the next two the four and six of hearts. East also had to make four discards. Naturally, he hung on to his clubs for dear life. He have thrown two spades and two hearts, but he went wrong and discarded three hearts. Now South played ace and another heart to set up his last heart for the tenth trick.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was a social event that almost went without notice, despite its significance in the history of Hollywood's cafe society. The occasion: a 21st birthday party for Cheryl Crane, given by her mother, Lana Turner.

Rock to Watusi

Cheryl and her friends were rocking to the watusi until early Monday morning on the Sunset Strip, where Lana once ruled as queen of filmland's night life. The blonde star joined in the gyrating dance with professional style. But most of the time she watched as the youngest visitor braved the heat of strutting guitars. This was Cheryl's night.

"For weeks I've been working on every tiny detail," Lana remarked over the party noise. "The flowers, the buffet, the entertainment—I took care of everything. I even invited every guest by telephone."

Careful Planning

The party reflected careful planning. One hundred and fifty guests, all screened by private detectives at the door, poured into the Galaxy, one of the strip's night spots that has sprung up to satisfy the watusi craze. Each table was decorated with sprays of red and pink daisies and carnations, and balloons festooned the walls. Pink carnations spelled out "Happy Birthday, Cheryl" over the bar.

Lana, trim in a clinging white lace dress, greeted each guest. Her daughter, in a low-backed red formal, also visited every table. Cheryl, who has been sheltered since the 1958 slaying of Johnny Stompanato, is now a statuesque brunette beauty, five inches taller than her mother.

Model Citizen Now
Cheryl's slaying of Stompanato, underworld figure who had been dating her mother, was ruled justifiable homicide after she testified he had threatened Miss Turner. Thereafter she was involved in a series of minor scrapes that kept her name in the news. Friends and family say that she now has settled down and become a model citizen.

Most of the guests were Cheryl's contemporaries, plus some of the younger acting crop, such as Elizabeth Ashley and television stars Gardner McKay, Clint Eastwood and Doug McClure. An old friend of the family also dropped in—Frank Sinatra.

Cheryl's father, Steve Crane, was in attendance, as was Lana's No. 5 Fred May, who is often her date despite their divorce.

Rochester Tests Lifting of Curfew

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Racially troubled Rochester, where raging mobs staged a weekend of bloody violence, edged closer to its normal peace and quiet today after a test lifting of a dusk-to-dawn curfew.

Although the city spent a relatively peaceful night, hundreds of helmeted city and state police continued to patrol Rochester's Negro sections. Still standing by were 1,500 National Guardsmen, ready to swing into action if needed.

Liquor Still Banned

A promise of swift, harsh retaliation in event of renewed racial rioting apparently produced the desired effect of keeping the lid on a simmering unrest. The ban on liquor sales for Rochester and surrounding Monroe County remained in effect at least until 5 p.m. today.

Throughout the night, police checked out a flurry of trouble calls from the neighborhoods where rampaging mobs battled police, pillaged and looted stores and inflicted property damage estimated in the millions of dollars. Most of the calls turned out to be without cause.

Detectives investigating a report of suspected loot, however, found three home-made gasoline bombs beneath a back porch in a Negro section. They confiscated the fire bombs, but no arrests were made.

In discussing the lifting of the curfew, first imposed last Saturday night, Mayor Frank T. Lamb described the move as a test.

Could Get Terms

"We are determined," Lamb said, "that law and order shall prevail in Rochester. Any violations shall be dealt with swiftly, harshly and conclusively."

Police have been instructed to the purpose of placing a monstrous blight upon one of the fairest areas of Kingston.

"We know that you will listen to the voices and cries of your constituents, and will weigh carefully any proposition placed before you concerning the expenditure of funds for the type of dump I have referred to tonight. We know you will ask searching questions, will demand to know costs, health hazards, loss of property values, and most importantly, we know you will want to study alternative plans."

No Solution, He Says

"We do not attempt to divert your attention from the need to rid the city of its refuse, but we do wish to focus your attention on the fact that means presently advanced will never, under any circumstances, provide the proper solution to that need."

"The eyes and faces of the good people of this city will be upon the members of this honorable body, and I know that you will not turn a deaf ear to their pleas for help, because you have shown your interest and concern by so kindly allowing us to come before you tonight."

Alderman Alecca noted that proposed establishment of "this dump" had been made by the mayor, "without any prior knowledge on my part." He was opposed, he said, for the same reasons cited by residents of the ward.

Some Arguments

They included the belief that such a project would lower property values in and near the dump area "as well as throughout the city." That it would bring heavy truck travel on main streets in the ward and increase traffic danger, especially on streets, which have no sidewalks, "despite repeated demands for their installation."

He felt it would take many years to make the lagoon area suitable for any purpose other than a dump, and during "all these years there would be a blight upon the people, and land of my ward."

Alecca felt it would be "an expensive dump to operate, since it would have to be operated under standards established by the state sanitary code. Just the purchase of soil to cover this dump each day and each week, could become a noose around the neck of the taxpayers of the city."

He asked, "Who knows what the expense of acquiring trucks to move this soil would amount to, or the salary of a competent person to supervise the operation, or, in fact, the cost of a heavy bulldozer, which would have to be in use daily. If the mayor has these figures, I think we should have the benefit of them."

The project, he felt, would be impractical because of area tide water, open sewers, and other drains, which run into the area. He asked what would happen to refuse placed into the area during floods caused by high tides. They happen frequently, he said, "not just once in a while."

The project, he held, would contaminate area water, "and could very well affect Kingston Point Beach, which was developed by the city at a great expense," and it would be in an area "within sight of many private homes, as well as schools and churches, of which we in the Fifth Ward are so proud."

Alecca said he did not feel that the people of the Fifth Ward and friends throughout the city were unreasonable in their opposition to the proposed project. "We only seek to be treated in a fair manner, and not as though our lives and our property are of no consequence." He was opposed to any dump there, he said, and wanted to know "what other alternatives are open to us."

use all necessary force to protect lives and property in case of a renewal of the bloody riots, which brought death to four men and injuries to three others.

More than 1,000 persons, mostly Negroes, were arrested, some on felony charges that could result in prison terms of up to five years.

Meanwhile, law enforcement officers were reported to have recovered some of the loot stolen from riot-battered stores during the weekend flare-up.

Det. Lt. Tom Cellura said police were receiving numerous reports of suspected loot hidden in Negro homes.

Stolen Goods Found

Checking out each lead, officers occasionally have found stolen goods.

Cellura asserted that searches are instigated only when complaints are received or the loot is plainly visible to investigators.

"We are acting on calls, anonymous tips and other such reports," he said. "Some of the stuff is in the open on porches or in back yards, and in other cases we have recovered stolen goods from vacated buildings."

Earlier, Lapolis Ashford of New York City, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), told newsmen that reports had come to him about police entering Negro homes and seizing items they contended were stolen but which might not have been loot.

Keep Wary Eye

City and state police, carrying nightsticks were deployed in teams spaced about 50 yards apart on both sides of Joseph Avenue, hit hard by rioters, and at strategic corners.

They kept a wary eye on clusters of Negroes and passing autos. But this time there was no hail of bricks, pop bottles and fire bombs, such as rained on police and others caught in the riotous weekend melee.

One officer commented, however: "You could still feel the tension in the air. We don't have this thing completely licked yet."

11 Drivers Pay Fines in Court

Erika Shaw, of Route 1, Box 335, Kingston, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 in city court today, and 10 others, charged with speeding paid $170 in fines.

Fined $20 each were: Nicholas Kryolick, Glen Oak, Queens; Peter Esposito, of Abrynn Street, John Sheeley, Modena Road, New Paltz, and Kevin Ryan, Broad Street, West Hurley.

Fined $15 each were: Frank Bonavito, 131 Clifton Avenue; Linda Whaley, 64 East Chester Street; Lillian Skeritt, Box 89, Hurley; Rose Marie Bode, 65 Liberty Street; William Atkinson, 11 Platekill Road, Mt. Marion, and Brian Chambers, 381 Mansion Street, Poughkeepsie.

Cleaster Knox, of 26 Post Street, charged with driving an uninspected vehicle, and lack of registration, paid $5, on the former and the latter was dismissed.

been to crash on the visible lighted side that American spacemen will explore first, so scientists here decided to attempt the midcourse maneuver.

The steering rocket was designed to correct errors of up to 6,200 miles in any direction from the target. Since the moon is 2,000 miles in diameter a correction of only 1,000 miles would crash the vehicle close to target.

At this point hopes were high that Ranger 7's six television eyes would transmit more than 4,000 pictures in the final 13 minutes of flight, from an altitude of 1,100 miles down to impact. Some would distinguish objects as small as an automobile.

The six earlier Rangers were failures. Ranger 6 last February impacted within 15 miles of its target, but its cameras were dead.

LBJ Opposition Is Soft-Pedaled By Miss. Demos

By JAMES SAGGUS

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Soft-pedaling their opposition to President Johnson, Mississippi's all-white regular Democrats have named an uninstructed delegation to the national convention.

The move came at the request of Gov. Paul B. Johnson, titular head of the party in Mississippi, at Tuesday's state Democratic convention, which delayed naming presidential electors until a recess session is held Sept. 9 after next month's national convention.

See Victory for Gov.

Observers called the state convention action a victory for Gov. Johnson over former Gov. Ross Barnett's unpledged elector forces. The latter are opposed to opening the door to the possibility that President Johnson may get on the ballot in Mississippi under the Democratic label.

The convention action was harshly criticized by leaders of the rival Freedom Democratic party, a nearly all-Negro group which will seek the ouster of the regular Mississippi Democrats at the national convention.

The convention "was probably one of the greatest examples of hypocritical political expediency in American history," said a statement by State Chairman Aaron Henry, a Clarksdale Negro druggist, and other leaders of the Freedom Democrats.

Battle Expected

"By resolving that in September both pledged and unpledged electors will be placed on the ballot, the Mississippi party hopes to tempt the national party with at least the possibility of their supporting the national candidates in November. But this transparent ruse was used in 1960 and it is common knowledge that at that time the Mississippi party threw its whole weight behind the unpledged electors and denounced the national candidates."

Some of the regular Democrats had been expected to ask the state party to put up presidential electors pledged to Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, but the move did not materialize. Observers said they expected a battle at the Sept. 9 recess convention by Goldwater Democrats to capture the Democratic electors.

Stay Is Granted Of Recount Order

There will be no recount of the ballots cast on Primary Day in Ulster County for Ulster County Democratic Committee-woman pending argument of an appeal from Justice John Pennock's Supreme Court order directing that a recount be had.

Under an order to show cause heard Tuesday before Justice Felix J. Aulisi, Appellate Division, Third Department, of Amsterdam, all proceedings of the matter were stayed pending argument of the appeal by Mrs. Harriett Allen Kerr, New Paltz, incumbent, from Justice Pennock's order.

It also provided that notice be served upon all town clerks of the county and the city clerk of Kingston, requiring them to seal the ballot boxes which are in their custody pending the outcome of the recount proceedings.

The application for a stay was made by Francis Martocci, counsel for Mrs. Kerr. Today Martocci said there was little likelihood that the appeal would be argued before September.

The action was instituted when Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, West Hurley, sought to have the ballots recounted after she had lost the Primary election to Mrs. Kerr by 46 votes.

Justice Pennock made an order directing that the Ulster County Board of Elections hold a recount. That order was appealed by Martocci on behalf of Mrs. Kerr.

A show cause order was granted temporarily staying the board of election from calling in the ballot boxes and commencing a recount within six days after the Pennock order was served. That show cause order was returnable Tuesday before Justice Aulisi of the Appellate Division at which time argument was heard on why the order of Justice Pennock should not be permanently stayed pending argument by the higher court, on the legality of Justice Pennock's order.

Tuesday a stay of Justice Pennock's order was granted on application of Attorney Martocci. The motion was opposed by Franklin Gavin of Woodstock and Albany, counsel for Mrs. Narel.

Jackie Purchases $200,000 Home On Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy has agreed to buy a 15-room apartment on Fifth Avenue overlooking Central Park.

Douglas L. Elliman, head of the real estate firm that manages the building, said Tuesday night the apartment was sold for about $200,000. He said maintenance charges are about $14,000 a year.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market inched higher early this afternoon following seven straight sessions in which more stocks declined than advanced. Trading continued sluggish.

The foundation for the rise was apparent in Tuesday's losing session when selling pressure was lifting and stocks showed increasing resistance to further retreat.

The mild recovery seemed purely technical, based on buying of a variety of issues which have been easing backward on profit-taking.

Selected chemicals, motors, steels, aerospace issues, rails, office equipments, utilities and airlines were among the favored issues.

Most gains were trifling, however, and the few advances of a point or more were mainly among the higher-priced stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 318.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.44 at 839.79.

U.S. Steel added a fraction following its half-year report on finances and operations. Other major steels were unevenly higher.

Gulf Oil advanced about a point following its dividend boost.

Report Pastore Keynoter Choice For Dems' Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — An arrangements committee picks a keynoter today for next month's Democratic National Convention with Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Birch Bayh of Indiana high among the possibilities.

Party colleagues said most of the speculation had centered on Pastore. A fiery speaker of Italian descent, Pastore has carved himself a respected place in the Senate with his intimate knowledge of legislation and his willingness to take on all comers in debate. He is 57.

In Providence, R.I., the Providence Journal said today it has learned reliably that Pastore has been asked by the White House to deliver the keynote address. The newspaper did not identify the source of its information.

Bayh, the second youngest senator at 36, is credited with some of the spellbinding ability that is traditional when the temporary chairman, or keynoter, extolls his own party's record and assails the opposition.

Originally there had been tentative plans to tab Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the youngest senator and the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, for the job at the Atlantic City convention which opens Aug. 24. Kennedy's serious injuries in a June 19 plane crash, in which Bayh and his wife also were injured, made this impossible.

The arrangements committee, headed by National Chairman John M. Bailey, has been hampered in its choice of a keynoter because so many of the prospects have been mentioned as possible vice presidential candidates. The group didn't want to appear to be promoting any of these.

President Johnson is reported to have given no inkling of his choice to party organization or congressional leaders.

Station Operator Charges Boy, 13, With $139 Theft

A 13-year-old Kingston boy will face Family Court action for the theft of $139.50 at a filling station near Port Ewen.

George Gleason who operates the station and bait shop just south of Port Ewen on 9W was pumping gasoline Tuesday after 1 p.m. when he looked up and saw the boy standing in the doorway.

The youngster said he wanted "a quarter's worth of gas."

When told he could not buy that amount, he went down the highway, picked up a bicycle and began riding "like mad" toward Kingston.

Having filled the customer's tank, Gleason went in to ring up the sale. The cash register was empty. When he checked the one in the bait shop it also was empty.

Gleason raced after the 13-year-old and caught him near a market in the area.

Two men from the Ulster County Sheriff's Department responded to a call from Gleason. Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth said they found $139.50 on the boy when he was searched.

Stocks Plus Savings Best To Meet College Needs

Q—"My husband and I have two separate savings accounts of $3,400 each for helping the higher education of our grandchildren. We have been considering withdrawing $1,500 from each account to buy two growth stocks. Would you suggest doing this? If so, give us the names of stocks to purchase. Are the shares purchased in the children's name, or do we act as Trustees, as with the savings accounts?" W. F.

A—"It is always pleasant for me to help people like yourselves who are so farsighted and generous about their grandchildren. I think your idea is excellent, since money in the bank is fixed as to principal whereas a good growth stock can enhance your capital over a period of years."

For your purpose, I suggest Sears, Roebuck, the world's greatest merchandiser, and Texaco, the nation's best oil marketer.

Q—"I bought 22 Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea at 66 per share

and have now bought 22 more at 41 to average down my cost. Could you give me your opinion about this stock?" M. B.

A—"I will do so gladly, although I'm afraid you're not going to like it very much. A & P is still about twice as big in volume as its nearest competitor, Safeway Stores. However, since the death of the Hartford brothers, the company has seemed unable to come up with a strong management team."

After remaining on a plateau for three years, share earnings declined in 1963, and the company estimates another decline of 18 per cent for the first fiscal quarter ended May 31.

I believe the company has problems that may take considerable time to resolve. Unless you need the relatively higher yield, I would switch to Winn-Dixie Stores, which has increased both earnings and dividends in every year of the past decade.

There will be no recount of the ballots cast on Primary Day in Ulster County for Ulster County Democratic Committee woman pending argument of an appeal from Justice John Pennock's Supreme Court order directing that a recount be had.

Under an order to show cause heard Tuesday before Justice Felix J. Aulisi, Appellate Division, Third Department, of Amsterdam, all proceedings of the matter were stayed pending argument of the appeal by Mrs. Harriett Allen Kerr, New Paltz, incumbent, from Justice Pennock's order.

It also provided that notice be served upon all town clerks of the county and the city clerk of Kingston, requiring them to seal the ballot boxes which are in their custody pending the outcome of the recount proceedings.

The application for a stay was made by Francis Martocci, counsel for Mrs. Kerr. Today Martocci said there was little likelihood that the appeal would be argued before September.

The action was instituted when Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel, West Hurley, sought to have the ballots recounted after she had lost the Primary election to Mrs. Kerr by 46 votes.

Justice Pennock made an order directing that the Ulster County Board of Elections hold a recount. That order was appealed by Martocci on behalf of Mrs. Kerr.

A show cause order was granted temporarily staying the board of election from calling in the ballot boxes and commencing a recount within six days after the Pennock order was served. That show cause order was returnable Tuesday before Justice Aulisi of the Appellate Division at which time argument was heard on why the order of Justice Pennock should not be permanently stayed pending argument before and determination by the higher court on the legality of Justice Pennock's order.

Tuesday a stay of Justice Pennock's order was granted on application of Attorney Martocci. The motion was opposed by Franklin Gavin of Woodstock and Albany, counsel for Mrs. Narel.

Jackie Purchases $200,000 Home On Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy has agreed to buy a 15-room apartment on Fifth Avenue overlooking Central Park.

Douglas L. Elliman, head of the real estate firm that manages the building, said Tuesday night the apartment was sold for about $200,000. He said maintenance charges are about $14,000 a year.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market inched higher early this afternoon following seven straight sessions in which more stocks declined than advanced. Trading continued sluggish.

The foundation for the rise was apparent in Tuesday's losing session when selling pressure showed increasing resistance to further retreat.

The mild recovery seemed purely technical, based on buying of a variety of issues which have been easing backward on profit-taking.

Selected chemicals, motors, steels, aerospace issues, rails, office equipments, utilities and airlines were among the favored issues.

Most gains were trifling, however, and the few advances of a point or more were mainly among the higher-priced stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .4 at 318.1 with industrials up .9, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.44 at 839.79.

U.S. Steel added a fraction following its half-year report on finances and operations. Other major steels were unevenly higher.

Gulf Oil advanced about a point following its dividend boost.

Report Pastore Keynote Choice For Dems' Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—An arrangements committee picks a keynote today for next month's Democratic National Convention with Sens. John O. Pastore of Rhode Island and Birch Bayh of Indiana high among the possibilities.

Party colleagues said most of the speculation had centered on Pastore. A fiery speaker of Italian descent, Pastore has carved himself a respected place in the Senate with his intimate knowledge of legislation and his willingness to take on all comers in debate. He is 57.

In Providence, R.I., the Providence Journal said today it has learned reliably that Pastore has been asked by the White House to deliver the keynote address. The newspaper did not identify the source of its information.

Bayh, the second youngest senator at 36, is credited with some of the spellbinding ability that is traditional when the temporary chairman, or keynote, extolls his own party's record and assails the opposition.

Originally there had been tentative plans to tab Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the youngest senator and the brother of the late President John F. Kennedy, for the job at the Atlantic City convention which opens Aug. 24. Kennedy's serious injuries in a June 19 plane crash, in which Bayh and his wife also were injured, made this impossible.

The arrangements committee, headed by National Chairman John M. Bailey, has been hampered in its choice of a keynote because so many of the prospects have been mentioned as possible vice presidential candidates. The group didn't want to appear to be promoting any of these.

President Johnson is reported to have given no inkling of his choice to party organization or congressional leaders.

Support Beyond Dreams

OTTAWA (AP)—Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia says Canadian pledges of support for his country's struggle with Indonesia were "beyond my expectations, beyond my dreams."

Rahman told newsmen Tuesday night after meeting with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson that Canada promised to train Malaysian pilots and to supply long-term credit for the purchase of Canadian planes.

Station Operator Charges Boy, 13, With $139 Theft

A 13-year-old Kingston boy will face Family Court action for the theft of $139.50 at a filling station near Port Ewen.

George Gleason who operates the station and bait shop just south of Port Ewen on 9W was pumping gasoline Tuesday after 1 p.m. when he looked up and saw the boy standing in the doorway.

The youngster said he wanted "a quarter's worth of gas."

When told he could not buy that amount, he went down the highway, picked up a bicycle and began riding "like mad" toward Kingston.

Having filled the customer's tank, Gleason went in to ring up the sale. The cash register was empty. When he checked the one in the bait shop it also was empty.

Gleason raced after the 13-year-old and caught him near a market in the area.

Two men from the Ulster County Sheriff's Department responded to a call from Gleason. Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone and Deputy Sheriff Bernard Ellsworth said they found $139.50 on the boy when he was searched.

We have been considering withdrawing $1,500 from each account to buy two growth stocks. Would you suggest doing this? If so, give us the names of stocks to purchase. Are the shares purchased in the children's name, or do we act as Trustees, as with the savings accounts?" W. F.

A—"It is always pleasant for me to help people like yourselves who are so far-sighted and generous about their grandchildren. I think your idea is excellent, since money in the bank is fixed as to principal whereas a good growth stock can enhance your capital over a period of years.

For your purpose, I suggest Sears, Roebuck, the world's greatest merchandiser and Texaco, the nation's best oil marketer.

Stocks purchased for minors in your state are registered in your name as "Custodian" under the "Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

Q—"I bought 22 Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea at 66 per share

A—"I will do so gladly, although I'm afraid you're not going to like it very much. A & P is still about twice as big in volume as its nearest competitor, Safeway Stores. However, since the death of the Hartford brothers, the company has seemed unable to come up with a strong management team.

After remaining on a plateau for three years, share earnings declined in 1963, and the company estimates another decline of 18 per cent for the first fiscal quarter ended May 31.

I believe the company has problems that may take considerable time to resolve.

Unless you need the relatively higher yield, I would switch to Winn-Dixie Stores, which has increased both earnings and dividends in every year of the past decade.

On Revealing Their Incomes:

Senators Keeping Outside Financial Interests Secret

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — You won't know for years, at least, how much income your senator may have in addition to his salary or where he got it, unless he volunteers the information. He's going to keep his outside financial interests, if any, to himself.

That's the long and short of what happened this week when senators were confronted with various proposals that they reveal their income for public scrutiny.

Instead, the Senate supported an idea of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Senate Republican leader and long-time foe of efforts to make the Senate do unto itself what it does to others: disclose outside income.

The Dirksen idea calls for a commission to make a two-year study of the whole question of morals among employees of government in all its branches. But the Senate still wouldn't have to do anything about itself, no matter what the commission recommended. Years ago Congress passed, and later tightened, a law to prevent conflict of interest among employees of the executive branch of government, such conflict meaning the mixing of a government job with personal outside gain.

An Example
For example: men appointed to high position by the president must get rid of stock they hold in companies dealing with the government. But this does not apply to members of Congress or its employees.

Congress has been urged to take action about itself for more than a dozen years by some liberal senators like Paul Douglas of Illinois and Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania. Democrats and Clifford P. Case, New Jersey Republican.

In 1951 Douglas headed a committee which proposed that Congress set up a commission on ethics in government and that all members of Congress and government employees making above a fixed sum in salary be compelled to disclose their income, assets, and all dealings in securities and commodities.

Congress brushed it off. The whole question got new life last year in the Senate's embarrassment of Bobby Baker, who had been secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate for years. He quit his job last Oct. 7.

Senators Excluded
This was when it became known he had wide-ranging interests and deals while working for the Senate. The Senate then authorized its Rules Committee to investigate to see whether Baker's outside activities had conflicted with his official duties.

The Senate additionally authorized investigation into the financial or business interests or activities of any officer or employee of the Senate but—the Senate didn't authorize an investigation of any senator who might have been mixed up with Baker.

The Rules Committee disclosed that while Baker's Senate majority pay was $19,600 a year he had accumulated a business fortune of $447,849. He refused to testify and thus avoided answering any questions.

In its final report July 9 the committee accused Baker of "many gross improprieties."

Squelch Proposal
As a result of its work the committee proposed that senators be required to identify their outside financial interests.

Specifically, this called for senators and Senate employees earning over $10,000 a year to disclose yearly their major outside financial interests but not the value of their holdings nor the income derived from them.

The Senate squelched this. It did the same to an even tougher proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, Delaware Republican who triggered the Baker investigation. He wanted senators and their employees to list each asset, in addition to disclosing their income tax returns.

The Senate also threw out a move by Clark to require a detailed listing of all holdings, income and gifts. So the Senate, which is quick to dig into the private doings of other government employees, isn't opening any windows on itself.

Yet the Bobby Baker case will probably be an issue, and no doubt an unpleasant one, in this year's presidential race.

Watching Beauty Contestants Like Mothering Chicks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Oregon arrived for the Miss Universe contest last year with two ducks in tow. Her chaperone's reaction?

"I put them in the bathtub, of course, for safekeeping," says Mrs. Val Hanley. "Things are always happening. We take care of them."

This soft-spoken native of Minneapolis said in an interview that her three years as a pageant chaperone have been "like mothering little chicks. You feel they're your own."

Mrs. Ingrid Fine, a native of Oslo, Norway, and wife of a Miami doctor, says one of the chaperone's tougher duties is to "watch so no man can put his hands on your girl."

Mrs. Fine talked Mrs. Hanley, wife of a retired Miami stock broker, into devoting two weeks as an unpaid mother. Both women were beauty titlists "of a minor sort" in younger years.

"I know what they're going through, the anticipations and the heartbreak," Mrs. Hanley says.

Mrs. Fine is one of the executive hostesses who have charge of the 60 chaperones and 100 girls gathered in five hotels. "It's like standing on your head. We help write speeches, help with makeup, encourage and listen — in the end we lose weight," she says.

Most of the chaperones and girls get along well. Occasionally there are little problems.

"Girls are under terrific pressure. You see it in rehearsal. In their rooms it's more so," Mrs. Fine said. "Sometimes the fact they've lost is too much."

To console her girls, Mrs. Hanley said she would tell them: "You're the most important things in Michigan and India, win or lose."

Hidden Treasure

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — While cleaning his attic recently Waldo Newcomer came upon a valuable "antique," a 12-year-ticket. He wrote Murt Bush, manager of passenger services in Boston, to determine if he were entitled to a refund. Although the validity of the line's tickets is normally one year from date of issuance, an exception was made in this case. New-ticket, minus $1.49 U. S. tax, not refundable on an item over three years old.

'The Hostage,' by Brendan Behan Opens At Woodstock Playhouse for One Week

By FRED SNYDER
Freeman Staff Writer

"If Beethoven had heard that song, he would have drunk his own Fifth" is an outrageously dull, corny line.

And Brendan Behan's The Hostage, currently playing at the Woodstock Playhouse, is often an outrageously dull and corny show.

What saves the play from two and a half hours of hopeless boredom is the fact that it is so deliberately corny and careless that the audience is virtually caught off guard scene after scene.

The Hostage isn't really about anything in particular. It's sort of a mishmash musical comedy-melodrama. There's this house of ill-repute, peopled by an idiot left-over from the Irish Republican Army, a crippled veteran of the 30-years-old Dublin rebellion, a convent alumna, a few drunks, a couple of homosexuals and a prostitute or two.

Into this happy, wholesome environment is dragged a British limey, a kind of Saul Bellow-type schlemiel, whom the new struggling IRA has captured and is holding as hostage for one of their boys convicted of murder and sentenced to death. The easy going, charming Englishman's life depends on that of the convict.

For all practical purposes, however, none of the characters is drawn too deeply or intensely, so that the comic or tragic fate of the hostage and his new friends is never a matter of any monumental concern. Rather, the people in Behan's show are on stage primarily to enjoy themselves. Indifferent to (if not bored with) their audience, they direct their sarcasm at everything from popes to protestants to Irish patriots to civil rights movements. And when they tire of their wisecracking, they all jump out of nowhere and strike up hilarious little tunes about absolutely nothing.

A sizeable portion of the dialogue is in pitifully poor taste, but nobody complains. The only severely regrettable parts are those topical quips interjected after the Irish author's recent death. One of those smart, talented young American copyboys thought he'd update the play a bit by scattering a few lines about President L. Baines Johnson and the Beatles. But they all fall flat. Behan could care less about Viet Nam or Ringo Starr.

One thing to be extremely thankful for about the play is that there are no taxing, obscure, hidden meanings or symbols running around loose. A testimonial to people who refuse to take their lives or deaths or circumstances too seriously. The Hostage can be a lot of fun for an audience that will let it be a lot of fun.

Production-wise, opening night was commendable. The show had an embarrassing first act, with cues and lines dropped all over the theatre. But the company managed to relax as the play went on and started taking their roles a good deal more casually, as the playwright obviously intended.

Surprisingly at home with his part as William Bassett, a last-minute stand-in for John Leighton's leading role as the master of the household, Pat O'Connell and Simm Landres had the other leads and headed a cast of smooth, fluent actors and actresses. Bill Johnson at the piano accompanied the players.

Director was Neil McKenzie. Produced by M. Edgar Rosenblum. The Hostage will run through Sunday night, to be followed by The Private Ear and The Public Eye next week.

Kayla Ablove, Mark Feldman Are Wed In Noontime Ceremony at Spring Glen

Vows of marriage were exchanged Sunday between Miss Kayla Ablove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ablove of Ringtop Road and Mark Feldman, son of Mrs. Samuel Feldman and the late Mr. Feldman of 171 Franklin Street.

The noontime ceremony took place at Homowack Lodge in Spring Glen, N. Y. Rabbi H. Z. Rappaport, pastor of Congregation Agudas Achim, Kingston, and cantor Herman Slomovits officiated.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a short sleeved ivory silk-linen Empire gown with skirt and train trimmed with appliques of seed pearls and Swiss quipre embroidery. Her French silk illusion bouffant veil was attached to a pillbox headpiece covered with ivory silk petals and pearls. She carried an heirloom prayer book from the bridegroom's maternal family, covered with white rubrum lilies.

Maid of honor was Miss Marsha Ablove, the bride's sister. She wore a pale pink silk Empire floor length gown. She carried a bouquet of deep pink Japanese spider chrysanthemums.

Best man was Robert Feldman, the bridegroom's brother. Ushers included Robert and Ralph Moseley of 103 Albany Avenue and Ethan Intrater of 171 Franklin Street.

Their mothers did everything for them. They may regard as trivial the issues of children's misbehavior which are important to us.

These are some of the causes of fathers' disinterest in discipline, as offered by Dr. Benjamin Spock to a group of mothers whose question-and-answer meeting was reported in a recent issue of Redbook magazine.

There's another cause that was not mentioned. Fathers lose interest in children's discipline because mothers can squelch any argument they raise by quoting the untested authority of "experts" like Dr. Spock. All his ardent devotees have to do to shut fathers up is to say, "I know much more about child training than you do because Dr. Spock says..."

Ah, well, I suppose it is unrealistic to expect any "expert" to ever say to American mothers, "Dear ladies, your dependence on me makes your claim to independence a fantasy in your heads. Where your grandmothers leaned on their husbands, you lean on me. So wouldn't it be sensible to look at the fact that you are not self-sufficient at all but simply feel obliged to pretend that you are to your hypnotized men?"

Q: I have no maid and my husband carves the meat at the table. Each place at table is set with a dinner plate. I would like to know how the meat is put on these plates? Does each guest pass his or her plate toward me?

A: Instead of setting your table with a dinner plate at each place, put them in a pile in front of your husband who puts a slice of meat on each plate and then passes it to a guest—starting with the lady on his right.

Good-Bye for Friend's Son

Q: The son of friends is going into the service at the end of next month. His parents are giving a party for him before he leaves and my husband and I have been invited. Does this call for a gift?

A: No gift is necessary.

She wore a gown of white Rochell lace posed over sun-yellow taffeta styled with a molded bodice, mid-length sleeves and a bateau neckline. The bell shaped skirt was cocktail length and she wore a double bow with a flyaway tulle veil. She carried a circular colonial arrangement of carnations with white Marguerite daisies.

Hidden Fur Featured In Second Showing Of Paris Fall Wear

PARIS (AP) — Buttonless, bulky coats with band collars were the news from Balmain today as Paris fall and winter fashion showings entered their second day.

The soft, padded look that comes from thick fur linings or soft quilting is important in Paris coats this season. Often the look is there without the fur or wool "stuffing" being apparent.

Most of Balmain's coats had edge-to-edge openings. Linings of fabric or fur had a layered buttoned-in look. Jersey helmet turbans had a wide chin strap that disappeared inside the rolled edge, rising band collars. Bulky, open Balmain coats in camel were lined in civet, or camel and gray checked wool. Beaver went inside an oatmeal tweed that was lightly fuzzed with mohair, as were many of the Balmain tweed coatings.

Dresses and suits also had band collars, often shaped to smoothly circle the throat like a necklace, rather than jut straight up. Their edges were soft and rolled, not sharply pressed.

There were fewer grand ball gowns in the Balmain collection, a greater tendency to the throw-away elegance of jeweled "sweater" tops. They were either sleeveless short or tunic "pullover", or sleeved close-waisted bodices attached to skirts for a "tucked-in" look.

Ianotti Children Sponsor Carnival To Benefit MD Cause

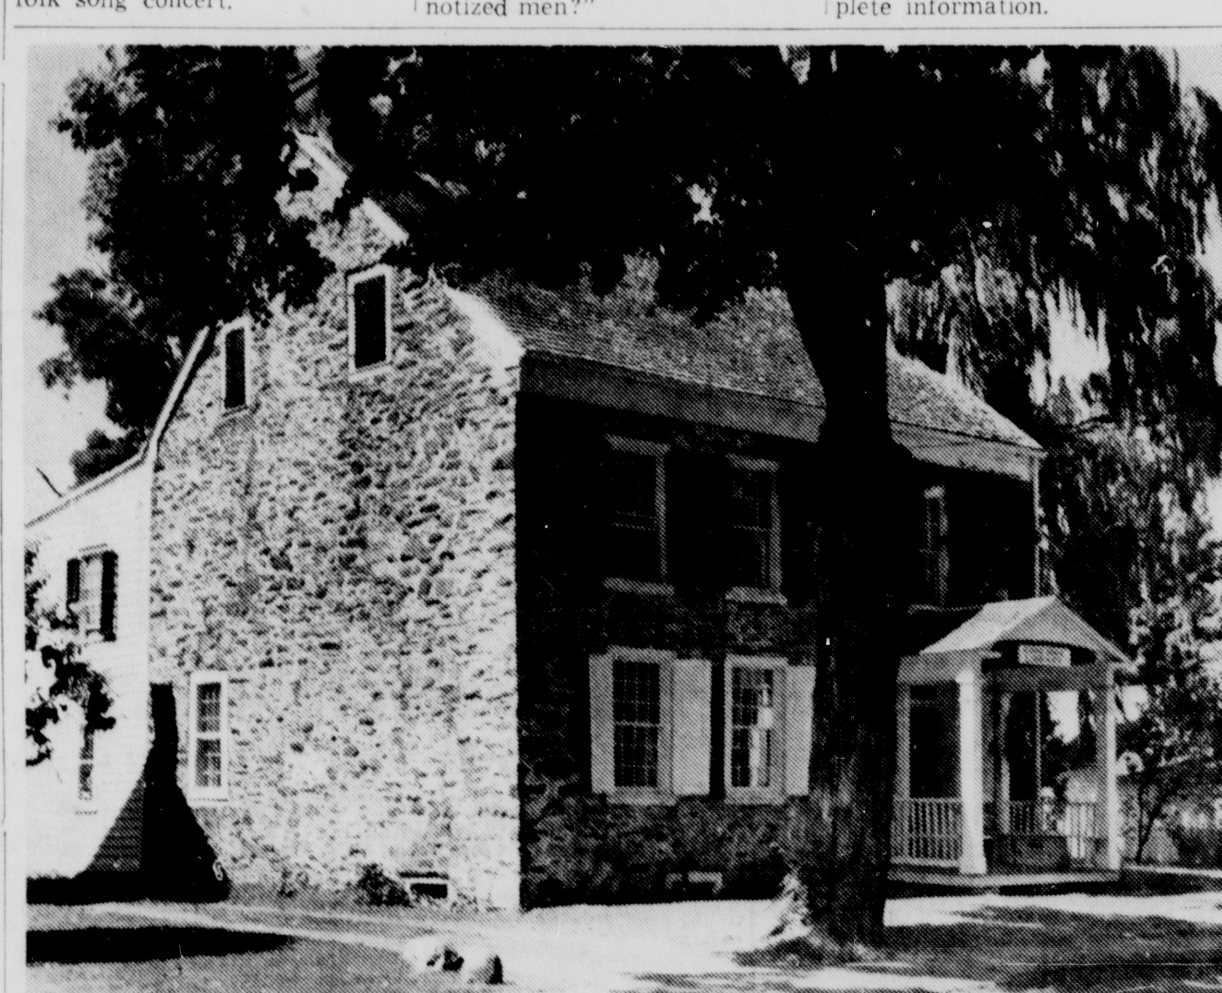

John and Marie Ianotti, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Ianotti of Sunrise Park, were chairman of a carnival held in their backyard on Sunrise Avenue Monday.

Proceeds were transmitted to the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. Co-chairmen were Mary Beth Lambert and Anthony Vinci.

The carnival consisted of games, refreshments and a puppet show. The children of the neighborhood attended.

About the Folks

Richard Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kline of 10 Len Court and Robert Whiston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiston, 133 Linderman Avenue recently returned from a weekend vacation at Newport, R. I., where they attended the annual folk song concert.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

We Use 'Expert' as Crutch

Fathers leave children's discipline to mothers instead of assuming their share of it because:

We American women have scared them out of asserting their masterfulness by scolding it; by saying to men: "Who needs you to take care of us? Just give us the justice you have denied us."

Their mothers did everything for them.

They may regard as trivial the issues of children's misbehavior which are important to us.

These are some of the causes of fathers' disinterest in discipline, as offered by Dr. Benjamin Spock to a group of mothers whose question-and-answer meeting was reported in a recent issue of Redbook magazine.

There's another cause that was not mentioned.

Fathers lose interest in children's discipline because mothers can squelch any argument they raise by quoting the untested authority of "experts" like Dr. Spock. All his ardent devotees have to do to shut fathers up is to say, "I know much more about child training than you do because Dr. Spock says . . ."

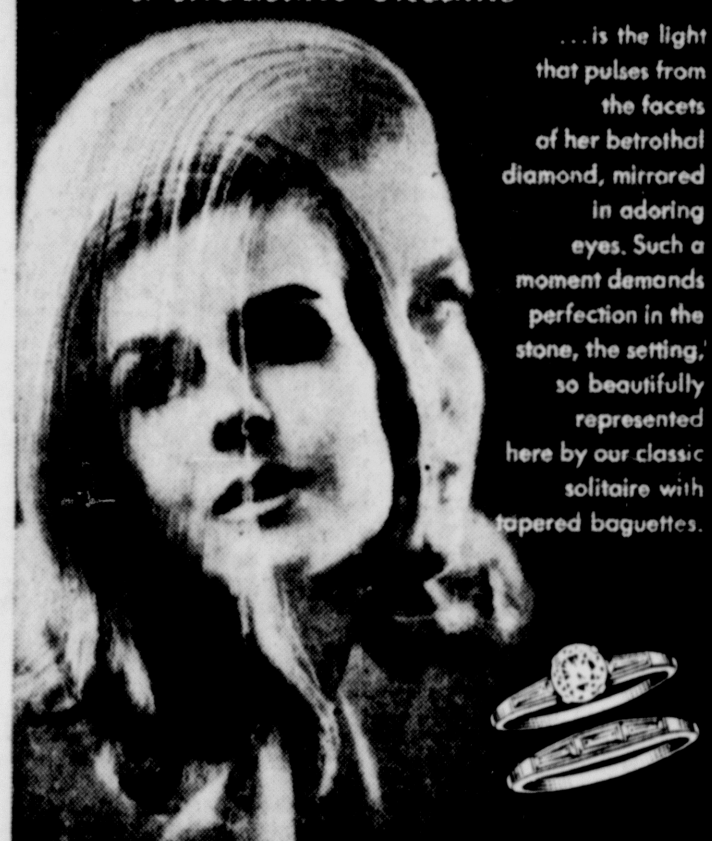

Alas, well, I suppose it is unrealistic to expect any "expert" to ever say to American mothers, "Dear ladies, your dependence on me makes your claim to independence a fantasy in your heads. Where your grandmothers leaned on their husbands, you lean on me. So wouldn't it be sensible to look at the fact that you are not self-sufficient at all but simply feel obliged to pretend that you are to your hypnotized men?"

STONE RIDGE LIBRARY BUILDING will be one of the old houses to be visited during the Dutch Day Fair conducted by the Marbletown Reformed Church of Stone Ridge on Saturday, Aug. 8. The original front stone section of the building was built by the Lounsbery family about 1740. One hundred years later the building came into the possession of the Hasbrouck family, by whom it was given to the village for use as a library 50 years ago. In the past two years new shelves have been built, the building repainted, new lights installed and new curtains provided. Tours of this house and other historic houses will leave the Church from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Mrs. Robert Kelder will be in charge of the tours. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 in the morning until 2:30 in the afternoon and supper will be served from 5 p. m. until all are served.

We the Women

By RUTH MILLETT

News item with a Dallas date-line: "Latest innovation in home design: a 'padded cell' for teenagers."

"A sound-conditioned house here utilizes a large walk-in closet as a retreat where teenagers may telephone or study in privacy. The floor is padded with five layers of foam rubber and then carpeted. Extra lighting, storage and shelf space, a telephone and floor-to-ceiling mirror complete the decor."

Offer a teenage daughter that kind of retreat and her parents might not see her for days. There's that nice, soft carpet for her to stretch out on while she talks to all her friends, hour after hour.

And there's that full-length mirror in which to study her features and decide which one she hates the most — experiment with eye make-up, put her hair on rollers, and try to make up her mind which movie star or folk singer she has the best chance of resembling.

But wait; the designer of this teenage "padded cell" left out a couple of absolute necessities — a well-stocked refrigerator to raid periodically and a record player to provide the sound effects teenagers feel they have to have at all times.

With just those two additions to her private hideaway, what teenager would ever care to join the family circle?

For the future of family togetherness, perhaps it was just as well they were overlooked.

Kingston Merchants Sweep Honors in City Baseball League

Top S and E, 2-1, to Earn 2nd Round Title

Ronnie Thomas outdueled Jerry Forrester in a good pitching battle as the Kingston Merchants clinched the second round title in the City Baseball league with a 2-1 triumph over S and E Farms last night at Dietz Stadium.

The champions, won the first round title in a playoff against the Port Ewen Merchants. They had little trouble in the second round, going undefeated.

The Merchants used singles by Gerry Hawkins, Frank Nuch and Len Whitten to score a run in the opening inning.

Thomas scored what proved to be the winning run in the fourth frame on an error.

The losers made it close in the sixth when Chick Boice drove in a tally with a booming triple. Thomas retired the side and then set the visitors down in the seventh to chalk up the win.

An exhibition doubleheader against a pair of top-flight Albany opponents is slated for Saturday night at the Stadium.

In the 5:30 opener, Port Ewen Merchants will oppose Mike's Submarine. At 8:15, the league all-stars will collide with Finkle's Jewelers, the top team in the Albany Twilight league.

Favorites Reach Golf Semi-Finals

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The co-medalists and the girl who ousted the defending champion were among the four contestants in today's semi-final round of the State Junior Girls' Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mary Margaret Dwyer, of Geneva, fresh from a 3 and 2 upset of defending titlist Carolyn Ploysa of Lancaster, was paired with Debbie Austin, of Rome, a co-medalist in qualifying play.

The other medalist, Gail Sykes of Schenectady, was matched with Linda Mazzarelli of Newburgh, who scored a 4 and 2 victory Tuesday over Cecily Schauer of Buffalo.

Miss Dwyer, 17, shot a par-75 over the Lake Shore Yacht and Country Club course to defeat Miss Ploysa.

Miss Austin edged Nancy Smith of Buffalo, 4 and 2, while Miss Sykes defeated Doll Story of Utica, 7 and 6.

The final will be Thursday.

Chance Two-Hits Yankees, 3-1; Bunning Stops Giants Again

Fregosi Paces Angels, Wallops 4 Straight Hits

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Dean Chance doesn't know it, but he's in trouble.

He's a Yankee-killer, full-fledged, thorough-going and heavily credentialed. He's the best in the world at the obscure art, succeeding Frank Lary in the position.

And you know what happened to Lary. He's with the Mets. And that, old buddy, is trouble. Chance, however, has no sign of the arm trouble that sent Lary, one-time Yankee nemesis, from the Tigers to the minors and eventually to Casey Stengel's hapless heroes.

The Los Angeles Angel right-hander stopped New York's American League leaders on just two hits Tuesday night, 3-1, snapping the Yanks' five-game winning string but not disturbing their leading margin.

Homer for Mantle
One of the Yank hits was a homer by Mickey Mantle in the seventh, the first New York run off Chance in 37 innings, a string that stretched back to Sept. 25, 1963.

Chance got all the support he needed from Jim Fregosi, who hit for the cycle, lashing a two-run homer in third and adding a triple, double and single.

The Yankees, however, retained a full-game lead over Baltimore, 7-4 losers to Minnesota. Detroit beat Chicago 6-3, Washington edged Cleveland 4-3 and Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1 in the other American League games, all at night.

Chance, now 10-5 for the season including five in a row, struck out eight and walked only two. Aside from Mantle's 20th homer, the only other New York hit was a single by Clete Boyer.

Win on Four Hits
Detroit got maximum mileage out of only four hits in its comeback triumph over the White Sox. Gates Brown tied it for the Tigers with a two-run homer in the sixth. George Thomas added the go-ahead run on a sacrifice fly, and a double by Al Kaline, a single by Norm Cash, a stolen base and an error added two more in the eighth.

Minnesota, loser of 14 of its last 16 games, revived its power in the decision over Baltimore. Zoilo Versalles cracked two home runs, Jimmie Hall had a two-run blast and Don Mincher a solo drive. Jerry Adair and Brooks Robinson had homers for the losers.

Philly Hurler Wins 3rd Game In Five Weeks

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning is slipping and if he keeps it up the Philadelphia Phillies are liable to slide right into their first National League pennant in 14 years.

Bunning, you see, is undergoing the jinx that strikes so many no-hit pitchers. The poor fellow has struggled through July with just two victories. He can't seem to beat anybody anymore—that is anybody except the second place San Francisco Giants.

The lanky ex-American League baffled the Giants for 8-13 innings Tuesday night before leaving for Jack Baldschun, who fed a double play ball to Willie McCovey to wrap up a 4-0 Phillie victory in the opener of a crucial three-game series.

It was only Bunning's third victory in the five weeks since he set down the New York Mets in a row. Two of these victories have come against the Giants and Phillie Manager Gene Mauch couldn't have hoped for a healthier hex.

Lanier Breaks Spell
The Giants couldn't do a thing with Bunning for 5-1-3 innings and visions of another no-hitter (only three pitchers have ever put two classics together in one summer) had Phillie fans excited. But Hal Lanier's single broke the spell in the sixth.

Gus Triandos, meanwhile, provided his batterymate with all the runs he needed in the fourth inning with a three-run homer, his first circuit in three months and only his second of the season.

After Lanier's hit, Bunning surrendered a bunt single to Matty Alou in the eighth. Willie Mays opened the Giant ninth with the third hit and when Orlando Cepeda singled one out later, Mauch called for Baldschun.

The reliever needed just one pitch to chalk up his 11th save and preserve Bunning's 10th victory. McCovey's double play grounder ended it and extended Philadelphia's National League lead to 1½ games.

Mets Routed
Elsewhere in the NL, Milwaukee edged Cincinnati 3-2, Los Angeles routed New York 9-0, and St. Louis topped Chicago 12-7. Houston and Pittsburgh were rained out.

Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole had stifled the Braves on one hit, Mike de la Hoz' fourth homer, when an electrical storm delayed the game 45 minutes. Sammy Ellis took over the Reds' pitching and the Braves promptly clipped him for four hits and two runs in the seventh to win it.

Spahn Ticketed For Bullpen Duty

By DAVE O'HARA

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—After nearly two decades as the Braves' pitching ace, Milwaukee southpaw Warren Spahn has been shipped to the bullpen—at least temporarily.

Owner of a 6-11 record and a fat 5.13 earned run average, the 43-year-old Spahn accepted a new role in his fabulous career and joined the Braves' relief corps Tuesday night.

Manager Bobby Bragan said he plans to keep Spahn in the bullpen for a while, except for possible spot starting assignments.

Although Bragan said that Spahn was "willing" to become a fireman, the biggest left-handed winner in baseball history was far from enthusiastic. Owner of 356 National League victories, Spahn set his sights on 400 while posting a 23-7 record last year.

"Naturally, I don't like the idea," Spahn said. "I've always said I'm paid to win 20 and it's just about impossible to do that working in relief. However, I'm also paid to help the ball club, so if they want me in the bullpen I'll do my best."

A 20-game winner in 13 seasons since he won his first game for the Braves, then in Boston, in 1946, Spahn seldom has been used in relief while boosting his salary to 80,000 a year.

"I've been all fouled up," he admitted. "My arm is sound and I feel great physically. However, my timing is off and I'm working to get it back. I've been striding too much or too little on my delivery, releasing the ball too soon and not getting the pitch where I want it."

"Don't write me off yet. I still have a lot of pitching left."

Apache Decisions Navajo Club, 4-1

Gordon Stoutenburg pitched and batted Apache to a 4-1 win over the Navajo in a Metropolitan Knothole league.

He hit a home run, his second of the season and received credit for the victory. Glenn Stoutenburg relieved and saved it. Ernie Cozza and Bob Strubel hit doubles and Dan Dugan stroked a triple.

Tragic Deaths Leave Gaps In Chicago Bears' Offense

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
RENSSELAER, Ind. (AP)—The deaths of halfback Willie Galimore and end John Farrington in a Sunday night auto crash have left gaps in the offense of the National Football League champion Chicago Bears that will be difficult to fill.

Replacing Galimore in particular will be a problem because the Bears have no experienced elusive breakaway runner of his caliber.

He streaked 321 yards in 85 carries—the longest for a 51-yard touchdown—and scored five times last season. He also caught 13 passes for 131 yards.

Running in his halfback spot in Tuesday's drills were Ronnie Bull, Billy Martin and rookie Winston Kelton of Wiley, Tex., who starred two years with the San Diego Marines.

Bull is a powerful runner but does not have Galimore's ability to turn the corner. Martin lacks over-all speed. Kelton is elusive but cannot match Galimore's quickness.

The loss of Farrington, who gained 335 yards with 21 pass receptions last year, leaves the spread end position open. However, the Bears bolstered this spot with two trades last May.

Rich Kreitling was obtained from the Cleveland Browns and Gary Barnes from Dallas. Each has made a good impression in workouts.

Also bidding for the berth is Bill Martin, a 6-5 player from Georgia Tech. Another candidate is Chuck Logan of Northwestern. He now is with the College All-Stars, whom the Bears will meet in Chicago's Soldier Field Aug. 7.

'Once Afraid to Walk in Club House,' Venturi Now One of Top Pro Golfers

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"I used to be ashamed to walk in the club house," Ken Venturi said. "I'd duck my head and sneak to my locker."

"I was even afraid to shoot a good round, because I knew I would come up with a bad round. I had no confidence. I ached inside. Six months ago I wanted to ditch it all."

"Then I won the Open. It changed my whole life. I can hold my head up again. I know I can play the game. Now I can't wait to get to the club house and out on the course."

Venturi died a thousand deaths before he finally slew the ghosts of his past failures and disappointments in the National Open over the steamy Congressional course at Washington, D.C.

Ten years ago he was universally hailed as the brightest prospect in golf, heir apparent to the throne soon to be vacated by an aging Ben Hogan.

In 1960, now a pro, Venturi seemed to have the Masters won when Arnold Palmer surged in with birdies on the final two holes to win by a stroke.

July 28 — Tarport Susan finished first in a tight three horse finish to win the second race Tuesday night at Monticello Raceway and complete a $619.20 daily double payoff, the biggest since Sept. 7, 1962, when the track record payoff for the double of $629.40 was made.

Driven by Maurice Pusey, Tarport Susan passed the pace setting famous flame and held off a late charge by Butterfly Wick to win the race in a tight finish. Sent off at 20-1 odds, the 2-year-old brown filly returned $44.70, $11.50 and $4.70. Famous Flame, with Frank Popfinger in the sulky, returned $3.60 and $2.80 while Butterfly Wick paid $3.20 to show.

Setting up the 8-5 winning combination was Sam Sanders, the winner of the trotting half of the double. Al Manzi guided the 7-year-old brown gelding to a stretch victory over Ernest Hanover and Lucien Fontaine, the odds-on favorite.

It was the third straight night that the outside post eight won the first half of the double. When Tarport Susan scored in the second race, it was the biggest payoff on the board. The smallest was $59.00 on the 8-7 combination of Sam Sanders and Famous Flame.

Although Bragan said that Spahn was "willing" to become a fireman, the biggest left-handed winner in baseball history was far from enthusiastic. Owner of 356 National League victories, Spahn set his sights on 400 while posting a 23-7 record last year.

"Naturally, I don't like the idea," Spahn said. "I've always said I'm paid to win 20 and it's just about impossible to do that working in relief. However, I'm also paid to help the ball club, so if they want me in the bullpen I'll do my best."

A 20-game winner in 13 seasons since he won his first game for the Braves, then in Boston, in 1946, Spahn seldom has been used in relief while boosting his salary to 80,000 a year.

"I've been all fouled up," he admitted. "My arm is sound and I feel great physically. However, my timing is off and I'm working to get it back. I've been striding too much or too little on my delivery, releasing the ball too soon and not getting the pitch where I want it. Don't write me off yet. I still have a lot of pitching left."

Apache Decisions Navajo Club, 4-1

Gordon Stoutenburg pitched and batted Apache to a 4-1 win over the Navajo in a Metropolitan Knothole league.

He hit a home run, his second of the season and received credit for the victory. Glenn Stoutenburg relieved and saved it.

Tragic Deaths Leave Gaps In Chicago Bears' Offense

Associated Press Sports Writer

RENNELAEER, Ind. (AP)—The deaths of halfback Willie Galimore and end John Farrington in a Sunday night auto crash have left gaps in the offense of the National Football League champion Chicago Bears that will be difficult to fill.

Replacing Galimore in particular will be a problem because the Bears have no experienced elusive breakthrough runner of his caliber.

He streaked 321 yards in 85 carries—the longest for a 51-year touchdown—and scored five times last season. He also caught 13 passes for 131 yards.

Running in his halfback spot in Tuesday's drills were Ronnie Bull, Billy Martin and rookie Winston Kelton of Wiley, Tex., who starred two years with the San Diego Marines.

Bull is a powerful runner but does not have Galimore's ability to turn the corner. Martin lacks over-all speed. Kelton is elusive but cannot match Galimore's quickness.

The loss of Farrington, who gained 335 yards with 21 pass receptions last year, leaves the spread end position open. However, the Bears bolstered this spot with two trades last May. Rich Kreitling was obtained from the Cleveland Browns and Gary Barnes from Dallas. Each has made a good impression in workouts.

Also bidding for the berth is Bill Martin, a 6-5 player from Georgia Tech. Another candidate is Chuck Logan of Northwestern. He now is with the College All-Stars, whom the Bears will meet in Chicago's Soldier Field Aug. 7.

'Once Afraid to Walk in Club House,' Venturi Now One of Top Pro Golfers

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—"I used to be ashamed to walk in the club house," Ken Venturi said. "I'd duck my head and sneak to my locker."

"I was even afraid to shoot a good round, because I knew I would come up with a bad round. I had no confidence. I ached inside. Six months ago I wanted to ditch it all."

"Then I won the Open. It changed my whole life. I can hold my head up again. I know I can play the game. Now I can't wait to get to the clubhouse and out on the course."

Venturi died a thousand deaths before he finally slew the ghosts of his past failures and disappointments in the National Open over the steamy Congressional course at Washington, D.C.

Ten years ago he was universally hailed as the brightest prospect in golf, heir apparent to the throne soon to be vacated by an aging Ben Hogan.

In 1960, now a pro, Venturi seemed to have the Masters won when Arnold Palmer surged in with birdsies on the final two holes to win by a stroke.

10 Wins in Four Years
In his first four years after turning pro in 1956 he won 10 tournaments. In 1960 he collected

MONTICELLO, New York, July 28 — Tarport Susan finished first in a tight three horse finish to win the second race Tuesday night at Monticello Raceway and complete a $619.20 daily double payoff, the biggest since Sept. 7, 1962, when the track record payoff for the double of $629.40 was made.

Driven by Maurice Pusey, Tarport Susan passed the pace setting famous flame and held off a late charge by Butterfly Wick to win the race in a tight finish.

Sent off at 20-1 odds, the 2-year-old brown filly returned $44.70, $11.50 and $4.70. Famous Flame, with Frank Popfinger in the sulky, returned $3.60 and $2.80 while Butterfly Wick paid $3.20 to show.

Setting up the 8-5 winning combination was Sam Sanders, the winner of the trotting half of the double. Al Manzi guided the 7-year-old brown gelding to a stretch victory over Ernest Hanover and Lucien Fontaine, the odds-on favorite.

It was the third straight night that the outside post eight won the first half of the double. When Tarport Susan scored in the second race, it was the biggest payoff on the board. The smallest was $59.00 on the 8-7 combination of Sam Sanders and Famous Flame.

ed $41,230 in official earnings. However, he never crashed through to challenge Palmer for the No. 1 position in golf.

In February 1962, Venturi was playing a pro-am tournament in Palm Springs, Calif., when he leaned over to pluck a ball from the cup. Something snapped in his spine. He tried all sorts of remedies. Nothing worked. His golf swing was restricted. His game suffered.

He won only $6,951 in 1962, not even hamburger money. In 1963 it was worse. He collected only $3,848. He was ready to quit earlier this year when he got a letter from Father Francis Murray, a priest from Burlingame, near Ken's home. In essence, the priest advised: "Keep calm. Don't get too elated. Don't get too downcast."

These words were floating through Venturi's mind when he strode over the long and hazardous Congressional course on the final day of the Open—nearly out from heat exhaustion. He held on for final rounds of 66-70 for 278, the second lowest score ever posted in the American Open.

Venturi, now 33, was born May 15, 1931 in San Francisco, son of ship chandler. He was runner-up in the National Junior at 17, won the San Francisco city title at 18 and twice captured the California amateur title.

He married his college sweetheart, Conni, shortly after finishing San Jose State. They have two children—Matthew Bruce, 8, and Timothy, 4.

Venturi's credo is simple: "I have only one objective—that is to win. I'd rather win one championship than finish second in a dozen."

Ridzik Makes No Bones About His Comeback

By SANDY PADWE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Thirty-year-old minor league relief pitchers who have sore arms usually spend their free moments looking for other jobs.

Steve Ridzik, however, was an exception. He looked for a chiropractor instead.

It was back in 1959 and at the time Ridzik wasn't thinking much about returning to the major leagues. He couldn't even throw a ball 50 feet due to calcium deposits at the base of his neck which had cut off circulation to his pitching arm.

But now, at age 35, when most pitchers are thinking about what they'll do after retirement, Ridzik is an exception again.

He's the most effective relief pitcher on the staff of the Washington Senators and is feeling so strong, he's talking about being around for another five years.

That would make him a 25-year man in professional baseball because he signed his first contract in 1945 with the Phillies organization when he was just 16.

"I've been lucky," he said. "I came home (Yonkers, N.Y.) and found a chiropractor who helped me. It's hard to explain exactly what he did because it was very complicated but what it amounted to was relieving the pressure around the neck and restoring the circulation."

"I went to Fort Worth that year and it was hot down there, which really helped my arm. I

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

Best Bet—Skippy Rhythm

Upset Chance—What Next

(4th)

1. DISCRETION lays over this field. It is one of the most consistent trotters at the oval.

KING CHRISTIAN shows some fair efforts. The competition, MINKA seeks first win of the season but is hampered by post.

2. MATT B. raced well the last time but was outclassed. A good chance here. WESTFIELD EXPRESS and BLOCKBUSTER seem to be the next best.

3. MURRIGAN couldn't keep up the pace in a 31 second last quarter. A chance here. WORTHY K. will be the front runner and can go all the way on top. PETARD will be tough from the pole.

4. BERT PARKER looks good in this one, especially off his qualifying race. WHAT NEXT has been out six times and can upset this field of green horses. COMMON INTEREST entry should be in the money.

5. BILL SAUCY TALBOT won last with ease. Right back this time, especially from the inside position. HOBOT ET is razor sharp. Must be given a chance. TOPOZ SUE could be tough, but who will drive?

6. SPIROU could win this and set up a big twin double. KATHLEEN GRATTAN is very inconsistent. NEMMA'S FRANK seeks first win in two seasons.

7. OUR ADIOS won in the mud as it pleased. Can come right back on a fast track. SPINDLE TOP JOAN is rounding into shape but drew a bad post.

8. MORGAN HANOVER has won two straight betting starts. Moves up in class but is accorded a slight edge. MEADOW SUSAN always tough against this company. EXMORE is just so-so.

9. SKIPPY RHYTHM went well at Goshen. The best bet. HAUGHTON ENTRY is the one to beat. SLY VAMP has Gilmore but a poor post.

SPECIAL GUEST AT METS GAME—Rodney Lemon, 12 of Blue Mountain, his father, Adrian Lemon (left) and John J. Pipczynski, comptroller of Montgomery Ward department store here prepare for bus trip to Shea Stadium Sunday where Rodney and his father were special guests of the New York Mets at the doubleheader. Even though the Mets lost both, they saw two exciting free-hitting contests. Rodney recently won the M-W Father's Day promotion and gave his prize, a bicycle to Karen Schellenkamp, 11 of Rosendale. He won with his composition My Dad Is the Greatest, and said that if he won, he would like the prize to go to someone who doesn't have a dad. Karen's father lost his life in a fire while trying to save Karen's sister. Rodney and his father made the trip on the M-W charter bus carrying 40 winners of a World's Fair contest to New York City. Rodney, one of the "new breed" didn't get a chance to meet Casey Stengel, who was busy trying to salvage a ball game. They occupied a box seat at Shea Stadium. (Freeman photo)

Cool Air Moves Into Lakes Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler weather spread today into the middle Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes area behind a front which developed thundershowers in the Ohio Valley and Southern Plains.

The eastern states except for extreme northern Maine continued to swelter in near-90 weather, and Dixie was hot also. The northern Plains warmed somewhat as the midsummer sun's effects returned. The Rockies and intermountain region were arenas of afternoon shower buildup.

The push of drier, cooler air into Kansas and the Great Lakes during the night produced locally heavy thunderstorms which lashed suburbs northwest of Chicago and Garden City in southwestern Kansas with 60-mile winds.

Cooler Air Due Next Five Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Eastern New York — Cooler weather for the next five days with temperatures averaging near or below normal. Cooler weather at the beginning of the period, warming by the weekend. Rainfall will be light and spotty. Some scattered shower activity is likely by about Sunday.

Western New York — Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees below normal. Cool and dry weather is forecast for Thursday and Friday, then warmer over the weekend. Scattered showers early next week are expected to average less than two-tenths of an inch.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 78-85. Nighttime lows, 59-64.

Delay Sentencing In Traver Case

Imposition of any sentence was suspended this morning in Dutchess County Court when Lieut. George H. Traver, suspended Poughkeepsie police officer came up for sentence, the Dutchess County district attorney's office reported.

Traver was arrested Nov. 17, 1963, on a charge of having wounded a Highland taxi driver with his gun in the yard of the Traver home in Town of Poughkeepsie. Following a trial of an assault indictment, Traver was found guilty of second degree assault in one count. Imposition of sentence was postponed until today.

Buying Boycott Ends

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A 14-month selective buying campaign against downtown Jackson merchants — during which 23 businesses closed — was over today.

The Jackson Movement, composed of civil rights groups who advocated putting an economic pinch on white merchants to win rights for Negroes, voted Tuesday night after a heated debate to end the boycott.

Several opponents said there was still no promise that the merchants would agree to hire Negroes above the "broom and mop" level.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTIONS: Isn't this whole business of insurance one gigantic gambling game with the odds in favor of the insurance companies?

ANSWER: Not at all. If it were, anyone could play. As it is, only a person who might suffer a financial loss from a certain occurrence may insure against that occurrence. Your neighbor may not "gamble" with an insurance company that your house will or will not burn down unless he has some insurable interest in your house.

Kingston to Seek Seventh Pageant Election Aug. 13

Kingston will apply for the franchise to conduct the 1965 Miss New York State Pageant here for the seventh year and officers, for the fiscal year starting Sept. 15, will be elected August 13.

These decisions were made at a meeting of the Pageant, Inc., board of directors, sponsors of the Miss New York State Pageant Tuesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A preliminary financial report made by treasurer Ronald G. Downs, indicated that all expenses will be covered, including the cost of sending two delegates to Atlantic City in September. However, the receipts from the sale of patron tickets, admissions and souvenir program books was somewhat less than last year.

It was decided to publish another leaflet for 1964-65 to promote appearances by Miss New York State during the year and the 1965 State Pageant. A committee consisting of Warren Schoonmaker, John Lawson and Charles Turner was named to prepare the leaflet.

A nominating committee was also named by Pageant president Albert Kurt. The committee consisting of Warren Schoonmaker, Herman Rafalowsky and Ronald Downs will select and recommend a slate of officers for 1964-65 at the Aug. 13 meeting.

Miss Julie Just, named as Miss New York State here on July 11, is already proving to be one of the most popular queens. Warren Schoonmaker, chairman of the Miss New York State Management Committee, reported last night that nine appearances have already been scheduled during August and September, one being a five day commercial appearance in Philadelphia at a florist convention and show.

Also at the meeting Tuesday night it was announced that John F. Schuehler, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce appointed Mrs. Helen Davenport and Herman G. Rafalowsky to succeed themselves for a three-year term on the Pageant, Inc., board of directors and Joseph E. Scholier Jr. was named to fill the unexpired term of Clyde E. Wonderly who resigned. The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will announce their appointments in the near future. Those appointed and elected will take office on September 15 following the Miss America Pageant and be responsible for the 1965 Miss New York State Pageant.

Lions Hear Talk By Postmaster

"Importance of the Zip Code" was the central theme presented to the Kingston Lions Club by Postmaster Oscar Newkirk, at the weekly meeting.

Newkirk explained to the group that the Zip Code program eliminates several handling steps, thus saving sorting and time and resulting in faster mail delivery and more efficiency. The advent of the present mail explosion (12 1/2 billion increase per year in letters — 90 billion expected by 1970) has necessitated the Zip Code Program.

In discussing the program the speaker noted that the public reaction has been favorable and the Zip Code is now a reality. However, he pointed out that full support will eventually be needed to meet the demands of the ever increasing mail delivery situation.

Along with the new code program, new machines are being developed which will aid greatly in handling and speeding up mail delivery. Soon to be ready is an optical scanner machine which will work hand and hand with the Zip Code program. With the combination of improved machines, and improved management practices the Post Office departments will keep abreast of the problem, the speaker said.

In concluding, Newkirk urged all residents to use the important Zip Code so whereby the continued support of the public will allow the Postal Offices to increase and speed up the mail delivery service.

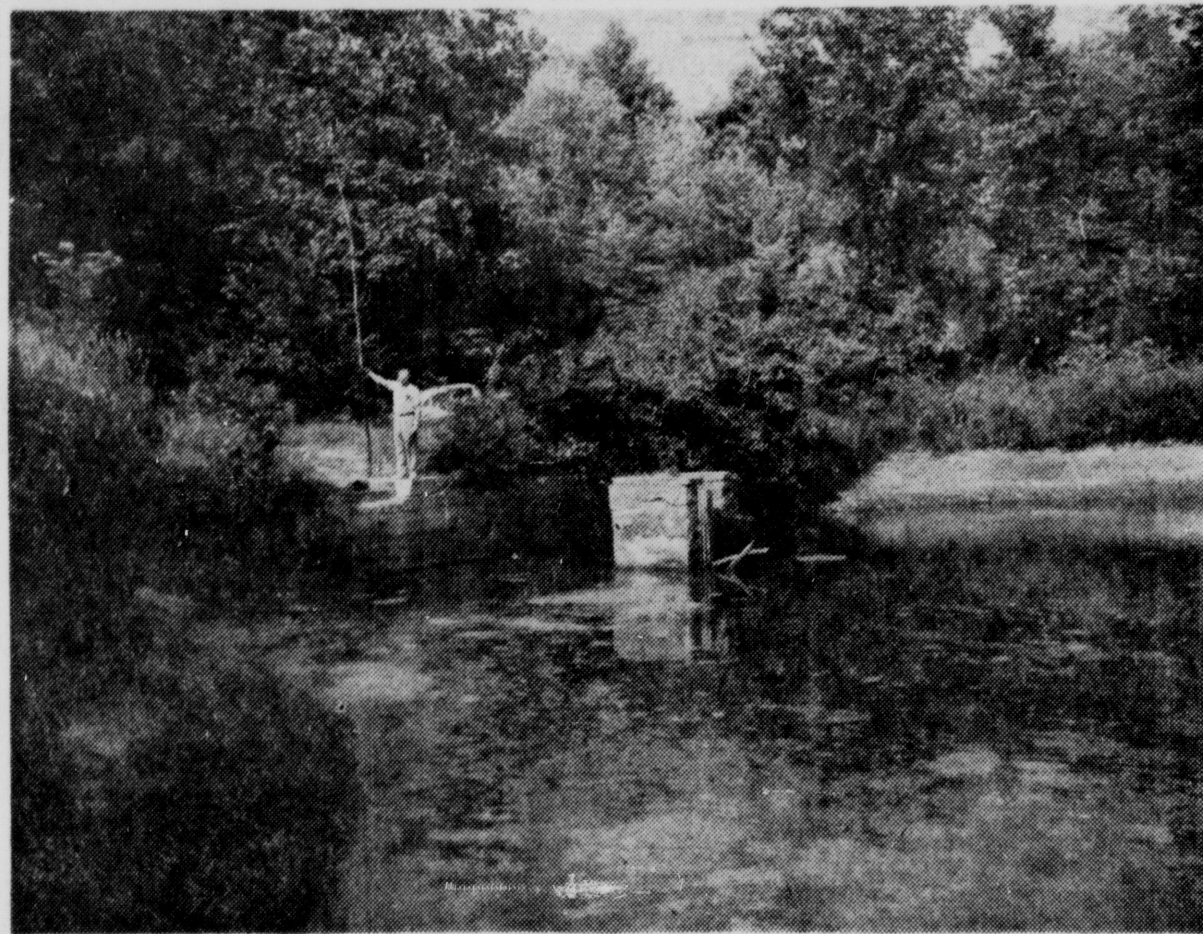

The National Park Service has camping facilities in 76 parks.

Relief Is Asked By Resident of Area Near Brook

Joseph Babiarz, of 28 Warren Street, advised at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting that "something has got to be done about the Tannery Brook" in the uptown area, which, he noted sometimes "is no brook at all," and now "carries nothing but disease."

Granted privilege of the floor through Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, Babiarz proposed that the city might be able to gain urban renewal financial credit through a project which would eliminate the brook, similar to that gained with school and other projects.

Called Hazard to Young

It breeds rats, he said, and is a hazard to children and in some places there are 10-foot spaces under streets. In the last six years, he said, he has repaired a wall three times.

The brook begins at a point near Linderman Avenue and flows generally in areas between Washington Avenue, Wall and Green Streets. It goes under Linderman Avenue, Warren Street, Len Court, Pearl and Main Streets, Lucas Avenue, and North Front Street.

Babiarz said he believed the brook has been a problem for at least 20 years. "I don't think it is needed in 1964," he said, and asked, "Why can't the entire brook be filled up, once-and-for-all?" At least, he urged, "give us some relief on Warren Street and Linderman Avenue."

Negro Sections Quiet

Negro sections here and in Rochester, N.Y., where bloody rioting broke out last weekend, were quiet. A curfew in Rochester was lifted, but a ban on liquor sales continued and 1,200 National Guard troops were standing by.

In Medford, Mass., several hundred white and Negro teenagers battled at a dance hall after a Negro youth tried to cut in on a white couple. Police subdued the window-smashing crowd within an hour. A dozen teenagers suffered minor injuries.

Invited by the mayor, King came here Monday night on what he called "a peace mission."

Wilkins issued his call for a meeting last Thursday after five days of racial rioting, looting and vandalism in Harlem and in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn. One Negro was shot and killed, hundreds were injured and the property damage was estimated at $1 million.

Turnpike Collision Injures 40

EDISON, N.J. (AP) — Two buses and a tractor-trailer were involved in a collision on the New Jersey Turnpike today, sending some 40 persons to hospitals.

A spokesman at Perth Amboy General Hospital said 26 persons were brought in there but it appeared only one would be admitted. Spokesmen at St. Peter's Hospital and Middlesex General Hospital, both in New Brunswick, said 14 persons had been taken there.

Most of the injured were from the New Brunswick area, the hospitals said.

St. Peter's Hospital said passengers reported three buses were parked on the shoulder of the northbound lanes and a fourth bus was pulling in behind them when the truck collided with the last two buses.

No reason was given for the buses being stopped on the turnpike about 15 miles south of Newark. State police said there was no fog. The accident occurred about 7:30 a.

Onteora School District Budget Hearing August 4

A final review of the 1964-65 budget proposed for the Onteora school district will be held Tuesday, August 4 at 8 p. m. in the Central Building at Boiceville. The Board of Education will review the budget which has been reduced $89,417 from the original budget which was defeated in May and again in June.

The detailed budget is available now in printed form in the offices of each elementary school to give voters an opportunity for review of the budget document prior to the public hearing. The Board of Education is hopeful that many district voters will take advantage of this opportunity to become acquainted with the details of the budget.

The Onteora district has been operating on an "austerity" budget since July 13. Voters will go to the polls on August 12 to determine whether the district will operate next year on a voter approved budget or an "austerity" budget with services to pupils sharply curtailed.

Cool Air Moves Into Lakes Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler weather spread today into the middle Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes area behind a front which developed thundershowers in the Ohio Valley and Southern Plains.

The eastern states except for extreme northern Maine confined to swelter in near-90 weather, and Dixie was hot also. The northern Plains warmed somewhat as the midsummer sun's effects returned. The Rockies and intermountain region were arenas of afternoon shower buildup.

Cooler Air Due Next Five Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Tuesday.

Eastern New York — Cooler weather for the next five days with temperatures averaging near or below normal. Cooler weather at the beginning of the period, warming by the weekend. Rainfall will be light and spotty. Some scattered shower activity is likely by about Sunday.

Western New York — Temperatures will average 3 to 5 degrees below normal. Cool and dry weather is forecast for Thursday and Friday, then warmer over the weekend. Scattered showers early next week are expected to average less than two-tenths of an inch.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs, 78-85. Nighttime lows, 59-64.

Delay Sentencing In Traver Case

Imposition of any sentence was suspended this morning in Dutchess County Court when Lieut. George H. Traver, suspended Poughkeepsie police officer came up for sentence, the Dutchess County district attorney's office reported.

Traver was arrested Nov. 17, 1963, on a charge of having wounded a Highland taxi driver with his gun in the yard of the Traver home in Town of Poughkeepsie. Following a trial of an assault indictment, Traver was found guilty of second degree assault in one count. Imposition of sentence was postponed until today.

Buying Boycott Ends

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A 14-month selective buying campaign against downtown Jackson merchants during which 23 businesses closed — was over today.

The Jackson Movement, composed of civil rights groups who advocated putting an economic pinch on white merchants to win rights for Negroes, voted Tuesday night after a heated debate to end the boycott.

Several opponents said there was still no promise that the merchants would agree to hire Negroes above the "broom and mop" level.

QUESTION: Isn't this whole business of insurance one gigantic gambling game with the odds in favor of the insurance companies?
ANSWER: Not at all. If it were, anyone could play. As it is, only a person who might suffer a financial loss from a certain occurrence may insure against that occurrence. Kingston to Seek Seventh Pageant Election Aug. 13

Kingston will apply for the franchise to conduct the 1965 Miss New York State Pageant here for the seventh year and officers, for the fiscal year starting Sept. 15, will be elected August 13.

These decisions were made at a meeting of the Pageant, Inc., board of directors, sponsors of the Miss New York State Pageant Tuesday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

A preliminary financial report made by treasurer Ronald G. Downs, indicated that all expenses will be covered, including the cost of sending two delegates to Atlantic City in September. However, the receipts from the sale of patron tickets, admissions and souvenir program books was somewhat less than last year.

It was decided to publish another leaflet for 1964-65 to promote appearances by Miss New York State during the year and the 1965 State Pageant. A committee consisting of Warren Schoonmaker, John Lawson and Charles Turner was named to prepare the leaflet.

A nominating committee was also named by Pageant president Albert Kurdt. The committee consisting of Warren Schoonmaker, Herman Rafalowsky and Ronald Downs will select and recommend a slate of officers for 1964-65 at the Aug. 13 meeting.

Miss Julie Just, named as Miss New York State here on July 11, is already proving to be one of the most popular queens. Warren Schoonmaker, chairman of the Miss New York State Management Committee, reported last night that nine appearances have already been scheduled during August and September, one being a five day commercial appearance in Philadelphia at a florist convention and show.

Also at the meeting Tuesday night it was announced that John F. Schuehler, president of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce appointed Mrs. Helen Davenport and Herman G. Rafalowsky to succeed themselves for a three-year term on the Pageant, Inc., board of directors and Joseph E. Scholer Jr. was named to fill the unexpired term of Clyde E. Wonderly who resigned. The Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce will announce their appointments in the near future. Those appointed and elected will take office on September 15 following the Miss America Pageant and be responsible for the 1965 Miss New York State Pageant.
